

Strategists Hail Proposal of New Canal in Panama

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—The vital military importance of a canal linking the Atlantic and Pacific will continue undiminished far into the future, American strategists say. This, it is pointed out, is in addition to the even greater value of the canal to the commerce of this nation and the world, as emphasized by President Johnson in announcing the proposal for building a new sea-level waterway across Panama or adjacent areas to replace the 50-year-old, lock-bound Panama canal.

Smylie Asked To National GOP Confab

NOISE, Dec. 19 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie was disclosed today to have been invited to the Republican national committee's next meeting despite the Idaho executive's insistence that the party's leadership must be revamped.

Smylie said he has accepted the invitation to attend the committee's session next month in Chicago.

Disclosure of the invitation—and acceptance—was in a letter which Smylie wrote to all members of the national committee. It was made public through his office in Boise while he was at Sun Valley for official winter season opening ceremonies.

With the letter Smylie sent a copy of the keynote speech he gave to the National Republican Governors' association, of which he is a member.

Another defense official commented that he believed the party's leadership was in a better position than it has been in the past.

The demonstrated value of the Panama canal in military operations during World War II and the Korean emergency moves all doubt regarding the future need and potential usefulness for meeting the requirements of the defense forces of this nation in peace and war, the spokesman said.

STEPPING OFF CHARTERED plane is Art Linkletter, one of 30 well-known personalities who arrived at Jostlin field at 2 p.m. Friday to board the Sun Valley stages for the formal opening party at Sun Valley. The group attended the function and returned to Los Angeles Saturday. (Times-News photo)

Visitor Was Impressed by Temperature

"Just what I expected, warm weather," said Art Linkletter as he stepped off the chartered 125-passenger plane at Jostlin field at 2 p.m. Friday. The temperature here was considerably below freezing.

Linkletter, along with about 30 other celebrities, including members of the Janss corporation, were en route to Sun Valley for the official opening of the resort.

The 34-year-old president of the Janss corporation, at the press conference, said it was with a social hour followed by a buffet style dinner and dancing in the new ballroom which without a doubt, is destined to rival such nationally known places of entertainment as the Hungry 1 and even Greenwich Village night spots.

3 T.F. High School Girls Dead, Woman Critical in Crash

Three Twin Falls high school girls were killed late Saturday night in a pulverizing two-car crash at Addison avenue east and Eastland drive. A young Kimberly woman, Mrs. Kenneth (Della) Martens, was in critical condition early Sunday morning at Magic Valley Memorial hospital. Her husband was reported in poor condition, with head lacerations. Claude Wiley, county coroner, identified the dead girls as Marcia Hackney, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Hackney, 1140 Florence avenue; Holly Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. (Ted) Smith, 440 Pierce street; and Nina Trunk, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Trunk, Elizabeth boulevard.

Police Chief M. Paul Barnett said the three girls were in a car registered to Hackney. Mr. and Mrs. Martens were in the other car.

Olson Freed Briefly, New Charge Is Filed

Eleventh District Judge Theron Ward upheld a writ of habeas corpus Friday and for a short time George Olson, 41, charged with the Aug. 22, 1963, murder of Keith Gates, Boise, was a free man. Olson is charged with the murder of Gates at the home of Gates' cousin and Olson's ex-wife, Mrs. Anna Lou McKinnon, 699 Lynwood boulevard. Judge Ward upheld the writ which contended the site of the shooting had been improperly annexed to the city and that charges originating in city police court were invalid.

Judge Ward, however, ruled Friday afternoon that Olson's constitutional rights had not been violated. Olson, Boise attorney for Olson.

"Smith had charged in the writ that, because of a 16-month delay in the proceedings, Olson's constitutional rights had been violated."

The judge ruled that "such delays were for good cause shown and that Olson's constitutional rights had in no way been abridged."

Olson was escorted into eleventh district court by Deputy Sheriff Wayne Hankins and sat unaccompanied undisturbed throughout a series of other legal actions which were pending before District Judge Theron Ward.

Several law officers were present in the court, as were members of city news media, all waiting for Judge Ward's ruling on a writ filed by Olson's attorney, Vernon K. Smith, Boise.

The writ alleged Olson was being held illegally because the site of the shooting, 699 Lynwood boulevard, was not properly annexed into the city limits by the city commission.

If it was judged that Lynwood was not properly annexed at the time of the murder, then Olson should have been arraigned either in justice court or probate court and not police court, which only has jurisdiction in city matters.

Judge Ward finally called Olson's case and Smith, followed by his client, who was carrying several of Smith's legal papers, took his place seated at a table facing the judge. County Prosecuting Attorney James J. May and district attorney were also present.

Old County Rest Home to Be Auctioned

The old county rest home will be sold at 10 a.m. Dec. 28 in a public auction at the east door of the county courthouse, according to J. F. D. Lancaster, county clerk and auditor.

The rest home, the first supported by Twin Falls county, was closed Sept. 1. It had been operated as a guest home for about five years and a condemnation by the state department of public health and assistance.

During these five years it provided care for aged without maximum nursing needs and received no state funds. Lancaster estimated approximately 20 persons were living at the home when it was closed.

Bids were opened in October for some of the out-buildings that went with the home and sold at the county auction. They will be sold at the auction.

Olson

While Olson sat with his head lowered, Spill said his case and while he was through may report he had nothing to add.

"This is a serious matter," Judge Ward began in his decision and "because of its serious nature I have prepared a nine-page memorandum on my decision."

Judge Ward ruled that Lynwood, at the time of the shooting, was not properly annexed into this city and therefore that Olson was not lawfully in custody and was entitled to be released upon writ of habeas corpus.

When Judge Ward told the court that Olson was to be discharged from custody, Olson failed to show any sign of interest.

Judge Ward added that Olson clearly concurred in every detail which has occurred in the prosecution of his case, therefore his constitutional rights have not been abridged.

Court was recessed, and when Olson stepped into the hallway County Sheriff James H. Benham informed Olson that he was under arrest, this time by county authorities. Olson again showed no sign of interest and engaged in small talk with law officers standing in the hall.

New arraignment began about 3:45 p.m. and consisted of a series of arguments between Smith and May whether charges against Olson should be dropped or whether he should be held in custody. Olson's constitutional rights had been violated and if he should be held in custody, he would be held in custody.

While the two attorneys were arguing, Olson and a jury clerk, who appeared calm, were seated in a small room. Olson was dressed in a neat dark suit, was clean shaven and recently had his hair cut.

Probate Judge Zoe Ann Shaul will rule on the two motions in Smith's favor before the preliminary hearing which is set for Jan. 28 in probate court.

Smith seemed extremely confident that Olson would be released and Olson did not seem worried.

MAGIC VALLEY—Considerable cloudiness through tonight. Occasional periods of snow or rain and snow mixed today and tonight. Continued heavy rain today. High today 35, low 25. No important changes except Camas prairie highs 35, 33, 31, 29. No important changes except Camas prairie highs 35, 33, 31, 29. No important changes except Camas prairie highs 35, 33, 31, 29.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

On Saturday evening's weather map, a very large cold low pressure disturbance lies along the coast, with its center just west of Seattle. A minor disturbance from this system swept across southern Idaho Friday night and Saturday. A band of light snow across the state accompanied the disturbance and it was still snowing lightly Saturday afternoon in some of the southern Idaho valleys. Sub-freezing amounts generally were light and ranged from traces to around .05 of an inch of moisture.

A tongue of much warmer air moved in behind the disturbance from strong southerly winds and raised afternoon temperatures from 10 to 25 degrees at all southern Idaho reporting stations. Boise reached a high of 47 degrees for the highest since the first day of this month. Other temperatures at 3 p.m. ranged from 20 at Twin Falls to 40 at Burley.

Minor disturbances will continue to move out of the West Coast and move across southern Idaho at frequent intervals. Occasional bands of rain or snow are expected to move from west to east across the agricultural valleys of southern Idaho Saturday and Sunday night. No heavy amounts of either rain or snow are indicated for the valleys at this time. Heavy snow may fall in the mountains and at elevations above 8,000 feet.

Today's high will average a little lower at southerly winds. A little more westerly and out of the supply of warm air.

Bids Sought On Shamrock School Site

Bids on the Shamrock school property south of Twin Falls will be opened Jan. 4 by Twin Falls school district No. 117.

The school site is about one acre of ground and a brick school, building with two classrooms and a basement room.

The site is located on a road between the Shamrock and a coal stoker furnace. School officials said it is a good building and could be converted into a home. It is appraised at $2,500 and must bring that value. The bids may be submitted to Ernest Ragland, superintendent of schools.

The Shamrock school was a rural school of the Twin Falls school system annexed by consolidation in about 1948.

The school was closed during the summer of 1962 because of a number of problems, according to Ragland.

It is difficult to get teachers for the school, even though the town carried premium wages. Teachers had to do custodial work such as care for the furnace and sweep up in addition to their teaching duties.

Ragland noted that, in any case, it is difficult to give any educational opportunity at such small country schools. He added that transportation of the students to city schools was a problem since school bus routes already went through the area to accommodate junior high and high school students.

At a public meeting held to consider discontinuing the school there were no dissenting voices, Ragland said.

city certain lands theretofore lying outside the northeast portion of the city and outside the city limits.

The description of the land was annexed, as set forth in the ordinance, failed to designate any township in which the land was located, thus making it impossible of location anywhere on the Earth. In addition, the land was described as being north of the city limits, which was not a correct description of the land to be annexed and did not encompass anything and was impossible of delineation.

On June 27, 1963, the city council tried to correct the description of the land by amending the ordinance No. 1001 but the description was defective and failed to close, thus failing again to encompass anything.

The city commission presumptively corrected the error Nov. 2.

Olson's attorney, who asked that the court rule the ordinance to rule the city limits and that his client's rights had been violated, that there was no evidence of a premeditated murder to hold Olson without bail.

Olson has been in Twin Falls county jail for about 16 months without bail.

Judge Ward ruled that his court would not examine the ordinance, but that Olson had been discharged under the writ of habeas corpus.

Court adjourned after the ruling and Olson was immediately arrested again by Twin Falls county Sheriff James H. Benham and taken to the jail on premeditated murder charges in probate court.

District court reconvened about half an hour later to hear a routine civil matter, after which Donald Lusk, court reporter, was asked to make a transcript of Olson's new arraignment in probate court.

During the arraignment by Probate Judge Zoe Ann Shaul, Smith moved that the first-degree murder charge be dismissed. Olson's attorney moved that the first-degree murder charge be dismissed. Olson's attorney moved that the first-degree murder charge be dismissed.

Smith asked that the writ be set forth in the writ ruled upon by Judge Ward earlier.

Smith also asked that, in the event Judge Shaul failed to rule in his favor, the court take up for consideration bail for Olson.

Twin Falls county Prosecuting Attorney James May argued that Olson's attorney had moved that the first-degree murder charge be dismissed.

May said that bond should not be set because he felt the charge was premeditated murder. He said the law states bail cannot be set in such cases. Smith argued that the murder was not premeditated and attempted to substantiate his argument with a transcript of the report by Dr. Kenneth Briggs, local psychiatrist, who examined Olson for about two hours.

The district court reporter was asked to read the transcript of Dr. Briggs' testimony, taken Oct. 21, during the writ hearing.

The transcript indicated that Olson's memory had been impaired by a head injury sustained in a fight with a woman. Olson was not "insane" and could be held on an impulsive basis.

May asked that Judge Ward's ruling on the matter be entered as evidence, Smith agreed.

Judge Shaul is expected to rule on the matter before the preliminary hearing, scheduled Jan. 28, in probate court.

After the arraignment, Olson was remanded to Twin Falls county jail.

Spill and the corporation will spend eight and one-half million dollars in the first phase of Sun Valley's new development.

That the original charm, warmth and friendliness of the resort will be maintained.

One hundred and sixty persons, widely known throughout Idaho and the West, were guests for the pre-opening festivities and stayed for the initial day of skiing for the 1964-65 season.

At Linkletter, of television fame, was present and will remain for the holidays.

Idaho's group of guests was headed by Gov. Robert E. Smylie and Mrs. Smylie. The governor welcomed the new owners to the state and said it was "heartening that the hospitality of the former owners shall be carried on by the new ones."

"What is good for Idaho is good for Sun Valley and what is good for Sun Valley is good for Idaho," the governor said.

Although Friday night was clear and bright, with a full moon, guests awoke Saturday and found more than one inch of new snow on the ground. It continued to fall throughout the morning. At 3 p.m. there was between 10 and 12 inches on the ground, and it still was snowing.

Sig Engle, head of the ski school, told his reporter that runs were in excellent condition. Although the new snow was deep, he declared it is not the depth that counts, but how the snow is prepared for the skiers.

"Sun Valley has the equipment to put the runs in good shape, right now they are excellent," Engle said.

Joseph Loggell, vice president of Janus corporation, has been assigned overall supervisor of the resort, assisted by Winston McCrea, general manager, and others.

President to Observe Yule At His Ranch

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—President Johnson will leave for a Christmas-in-Texas holiday Sunday, but most of his time there will be spent at his home, the White House announced today.

He will take budget director Kenneth Gordon to his home, Johnson City, along with a foot locker and two big cardboard boxes filled with gifts needed for the budget review.

White House press secretary George Brady said Johnson will go along with older daughter, Lynda, will remain here a few days.

The president will stay in Texas until after Christmas, then he will be heading back to Washington for the 1965 budget surgery.

Brady said Johnson was determined to cut the budget, but he will be possibly can. That will be a tough job. In early September and October, government agencies submitted their first money requests for the new year. The total came to 108 billion dollars.

been here a great many times before. He is a lawyer.

Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Spill, spent their honeymoon at Sun Valley. He is chairman of the board of directors with his brother, Edwin J. Spill, Jr. Both the Spill brothers and their wives were present for the pre-opening festivities.

Spill and the corporation will spend eight and one-half million dollars in the first phase of Sun Valley's new development.

That the original charm, warmth and friendliness of the resort will be maintained.

One hundred and sixty persons, widely known throughout Idaho and the West, were guests for the pre-opening festivities and stayed for the initial day of skiing for the 1964-65 season.

At Linkletter, of television fame, was present and will remain for the holidays.

Idaho's group of guests was headed by Gov. Robert E. Smylie and Mrs. Smylie. The governor welcomed the new owners to the state and said it was "heartening that the hospitality of the former owners shall be carried on by the new ones."

"What is good for Idaho is good for Sun Valley and what is good for Sun Valley is good for Idaho," the governor said.

Although Friday night was clear and bright, with a full moon, guests awoke Saturday and found more than one inch of new snow on the ground. It continued to fall throughout the morning. At 3 p.m. there was between 10 and 12 inches on the ground, and it still was snowing.

Sig Engle, head of the ski school, told his reporter that runs were in excellent condition. Although the new snow was deep, he declared it is not the depth that counts, but how the snow is prepared for the skiers.

"Sun Valley has the equipment to put the runs in good shape, right now they are excellent," Engle said.

Joseph Loggell, vice president of Janus corporation, has been assigned overall supervisor of the resort, assisted by Winston McCrea, general manager, and others.

2 Meetings Are Held by Spud Growers

BURLEY, Dec. 19—Directors of the Idaho Potato Growing and Marketing association conducted a meeting Friday afternoon at the Ponderosa Inn. A similar meeting was held Saturday at Blackfoot.

Discussed at the meeting were national potato controls, contracts with processors, legislation proposed and grower agreement with the association. Directors approved a new membership agreement and announced a complete statewide sign-up of growers would be undertaken.

The directors called on all potato growers in the state to get behind the association and give it the drive needed on legislative proposals.

Directors who met late Friday afternoon with Idaho processors to discuss problems were Alan Ponderosa, Blackfoot, and Clarence Parr, Burley, vice president in charge of research and education, and Doylie Eaplin, Blackfoot, executive secretary.

Directors are Dale Jones, Nampan, Melvin West, Rupert; and Alan Ponderosa, Blackfoot, and Clarence Parr.

Plane Planned

GOODING, Dec. 19—A new airline to serve Twin Falls, Idaho, Gooding and Salt Lake City has been formed.

Jim Workman, head of Western Aircraft, Gooding, said the air service, known as Sun Valley Airlines, was formed to take advantage of an anticipated increase in passenger traffic expected from the recent air travel boom.

The airline will begin service Dec. 23, if the federal aviation agency grants its permit, Workman said.

L. Niven, 81, Dies in T. F.

Lawrence (Scotty) Niven, 81, 360 Borah avenue west, died unexpectedly at his home Saturday.

He was born July 27, 1883, at Glasgow, Scotland, and came to the United States in 1902. He farmed in Missouri and Montana until 1932, and came to Twin Falls in 1937 from Iowa. He married Wilma E. Smith in October, 1911, at Belgrade, Mont. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, Manhattan, Mo.

Survivors, in addition to his widow, are two sons, Robert J. Niven, Twin Falls, and James W. Niven, Silverdale, Wash., one sister in Washington and a granddaughter. He was preceded in death by two brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Reynolds funeral chapel with the Rev. Robert Harvey, First Presbyterian church, officiating. Final rites will be held at Sunset Memorial park.

Kimberly Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of Cecil Macaw, president, had written to towns in Idaho and surrounding states in an attempt to purchase at a low rate second-hand Christmas decorations.

Ogden offered a good selection, Macaw said, at a good price. Another offer was made by Boise but Kimberly already had the items offered by the chamber at the state capital.

When the Pocatello offer came, it was too good to turn down. The message said in effect: Come and get our old decorations and you can have them for the asking.

"We sent a car to Pocatello the next morning," Macaw said. From Pocatello, Kimberly received 10 displays and, although many needed repair work, they were nice. The Kimberly chamber president said, "they saved the community a lot of money."

The decorations consist of a four-foot wooden circle with lights and a large holly leaf, lighted bell hanging inside, the sockets and lights at wholesale and even installed them himself.

WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—For the United States, the problem posed by Communist China is not the possibility that a clutch of knuckle-headed countries will smother it into the United Nations. Much more pressing, today and tomorrow and tomorrow, is the problem of how to live safely in a world also occupied by the Peking regime.

The crisis of the hour is Viet Nam. Expansion of the American effort there probably has been noted by the Chinese, and as an incentive to future moves. Andrew Tully, from Peking, an attack on North Viet Nam, says Peking will be interpreted as an attack on Communist China; probably this means that the Chinese will send "volunteer" troops into the fray. No one in Washington is underestimating the dangers in this one.

But that is only a present threat. Beyond the near horizon is the possibility of a Red China emerging as a full-fledged nuclear power. When and if that comes, the issue of peace and war will be taken out of the hands of the United States and the Soviet Union. Peking will have as much to say about it as the two present nuclear states.

MY UNDERSTANDING IN KOREA—Clearly, then, some means must be found to communicate with Red China. Because we are not on speaking terms with Peking, the situation is ripe for a series of miscalculations on both sides that could lead to war. We misunderstand each other in Korea, with the U.S. refusing to believe Peking would enter the war and Peking convinced that we had designs on the Chinese mainland. The result was intervention by those Chinese "volunteers," and a tragic prolonging of an unpopular war.

There is no talk of talking about recognition of the Peking regime or its admission to the U.N., although the latter undoubtedly will be accomplished in the next few years by the Afro-Asian majority in the U.N. American public opinion would never stand for recognition, even if it were moral, which it is not. You do not invite bandits into your parlor.

But it is incredible that no administration so far has hit on a method of opening and maintaining a line of communication with the Red Chinese. The talks in Warsaw about Korean prisoners-of-war deal with a specific subject and have proved almost worthless. What is needed is an imaginative plan which would permit the two countries to keep each other informed of their thinking. After all, opposing armies pester in the field.

WHAT WE SHOULD DO—This is a built-in opportunity for President Johnson, champion of the let-us-reason-together school. Instead of reacting to Communist moves, he can take the initiative in a move of his own in which there is nothing to lose. He should appoint forthwith a committee of distinguished citizens to meet with a similar Red Chinese delegation anywhere, anytime on matters of mutual concern. Such a move would have no ulterior purposes. It could open the way to continuing discussions between the two countries. And it would show the world that the United States is willing to talk things over with Peking. Should Peking reject the overture, it might occur even to the United States that the isolation of Red China is its own doing, not America's.

Despite all the sentimental twaddle about "Formosa," Communist China exists. It is a grim fact of life. It will not go away for want of attention. But the U.S. could convince the Peking public that we are not in it for the sake of imperialism. Mao Tse-tung and his cronies might decide it is a waste of time, money and effort to continue their policy of harassing their neighbors.

Views of Others

THOSE UGLY REMINDERS
And now to pick one post-election bone. This one campaign posters.

"Vote for" posters are a fixture of an election campaign.

You see them on telephone poles, fence posts, and even pasted across the front of a car.

The problem is that the pre-election zealotry that prompts their erection doesn't last past election day. And the signs that looked so bright and clean when they were new, soon look like garbage if they're not removed.

A bill to require candidates to post a bond to guarantee removal of signs has been introduced in the U.S. House of Representatives. So the public must remain alert to the mercy of candidates' consciences when it comes to cleaning up the post-election mess.

There is this to spur the candidates along: The signs that do remain are constant reminders of the names of those who fail to meet their responsibility.

To those who still have political ambitions, this should be a powerful stimulus. Royal Broughman, poet laureate of the P.I. sports writer, put it most cleverly:

The screaming and the shouting's over.
Some are drunk and some are clever.
There are still reminders left in town—
—who'll pick those campaign posters down?—Wenatchee World.

RIVER FEED LOTS
That Associated Press story recently about the herd of 515 Texas steers that traveled 2,536 miles by barge from Texas to eastern markets gaining an average of 70 pounds per head on the way may point to an unexpected use for the Texas-Arkansas river. The most economical commercial feedlots of the future may well be on catfish barges.

Now the course a steer takes to market is found about and costly to travel. Born on an Oklahoma ranch, he grows on pasture here for year or so and then is bought and transported to feed pens in Iowa or Nebraska. There it is fattened. "Finished," the trade calls it, for market on corn and sold to packers in Omaha or Chicago. Carcasses are shipped from there to other large markets as refrigerated, high-expensive freight.

The cattle barge feedlot offers something as sensible as the automobile assembly line—this Tribune.

THE LAST GIANTS
In 1908 President Theodore Roosevelt established Muir Woods national monument to protect stands of giant California redwoods, and the federal government has done nothing more to save the great trees since then.

The acres of redwoods have been reduced from 2,000,000 to 700,000 with only 10,000 of the latter in state parks. Consequently the national park service suggests federal purchase of 53,000 more acres. The proposal takes on added urgency when the Sierra Club reports that the California division of highways wants to park freeways through two more redwood state parks, having already invaded one.

The threat of timbering interests was serious defense against the "weakness" in its resolve to defend ancient monuments of nature, what hope is there but federal action?—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SHE SHOULD ENTER POLITICS
We're sorry for that Massachusetts girl who was ruled out of a water polo contest on the grounds she didn't live in New Hampshire. She was representing—but the poor little thing could still run for U.S. senator from New York.—Exchange Magazine.

WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—President Johnson dined in the White House last night with a group of advisers. He was particularly interested in the "Great Society" but he never said exactly how and he never quite said when.

He still hasn't given details last week, after he called in a group of reporters to ask him to interview him. He didn't quote him, it was clear he was thinking the Great Society will be many long years in the making.

Since last April he had dwelt on the Great Society theme repeatedly, although not recently, pledging his administration to build it. He mentioned the phrase to start in the "cities, the countryside . . . and overseas."

One of his foundation stones to be offered the new congress in January will be medical care for the aged. He also plans to build a new highway program and fund-building program and funds for health facilities in mining areas.

This is a modest enough beginning for a man who did so well in the November election, which also gave his Democrats overwhelming control of congress. He has been extraordinarily un-nervous for a victorious politician.

But the explanation is that he doesn't want to wake any of the good will he has built up through pressure tactics of the necessary conflict. In short, he seems bent on following a very moderate road.

He wants to avoid the kind of President Franklin D. Roosevelt was an enemy.

Standing on bare, swollen feet in Jakarta, Indonesian President Sukarno pledged to lead the Indonesian people "until my last hour."

Notably a barefoot—was the content of the post of Sukarno's destructibility.

For the life-time president of Indonesia, a barefoot was a sign of a sick man.

He couldn't put on his shoes, the president of a sick man. One kidney has been removed and he reportedly has been told he must undergo another operation to save the other.

In public, he obviously tired.

There was reason then for speculation about his successor.

In Paris, where NATO ministers extended their defense disapproval to include Southeast Asia, one name mentioned was that of Dr. Chaerul Bach, who currently is Sukarno's third deputy premier and development minister.

He is described as one who could be expected to crush Sukarno's campaign to "crush Malaysia."

The bumbling Jim of the IRS revenue service is about to land flush on the whiskers of a couple better-hooded right wing operators who were accused of certain political activities.

The targets are H. H. Hunt, a Texas billionaire, or thereabouts, who bankrolls the radio broadcasts of the Life Line foundation and evangelist Billy James, a Texas Christian Crusade with headquarters in Tulsa.

Hunt said in Tulsa some days ago that the IRS had notified him it was proposing to lift his exemption from payment of political activities. Revocation of the Life Line foundation tax exemption is said to be in the works.

What the IRS seems to be anything is that tax exempt organizations must not engage in politics. That is what the IRS says to the rightists. All right, but does it say anything like that to the left?

The available evidence is that it does not. This, however, is not solely the responsibility of the IRS.

The U.S. supreme court has relieved the IRS from the embarrassing chore of saying to Walter P. Reuther, "Hold on, bud, you and your union are engaging in political activity. You gotta stop it, we'll take away your union's tax exemption."

That would be a very embarrassing chore for the IRS because the statement to whom the IRS management is behooven to follow is uniformly politicians who couldn't be elected to anything if they had offended Walter Reuther and his big-league union associates. The supreme court, which never has been accused of any anti-union bias, disapproved of the matter early. It has ruled that when the union is engaged in political activity, it is not a labor union. That merely is education.

Let me be clear. The tax exemption for labor unions is not a political activity. It is a labor union. A U.S. senator or a representative that is not a political activity. It is a labor union. That merely is education.

Let me be clear. The tax exemption for labor unions is not a political activity. It is a labor union. A U.S. senator or a representative that is not a political activity. It is a labor union. That merely is education.

FAMOUS LAST LINE
GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Washington News

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—President Johnson dined in the White House last night with a group of advisers. He was particularly interested in the "Great Society" but he never said exactly how and he never quite said when.

He still hasn't given details last week, after he called in a group of reporters to ask him to interview him. He didn't quote him, it was clear he was thinking the Great Society will be many long years in the making.

Since last April he had dwelt on the Great Society theme repeatedly, although not recently, pledging his administration to build it. He mentioned the phrase to start in the "cities, the countryside . . . and overseas."

One of his foundation stones to be offered the new congress in January will be medical care for the aged. He also plans to build a new highway program and fund-building program and funds for health facilities in mining areas.

This is a modest enough beginning for a man who did so well in the November election, which also gave his Democrats overwhelming control of congress. He has been extraordinarily un-nervous for a victorious politician.

But the explanation is that he doesn't want to wake any of the good will he has built up through pressure tactics of the necessary conflict. In short, he seems bent on following a very moderate road.

He wants to avoid the kind of President Franklin D. Roosevelt was an enemy.

And certainly, with the passing of time, the percentage of churches that would make their power play of further aid to the communists would be the chaotic state of the religious economy.

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 19 (AP)—A five-year term in the Idaho state penitentiary was ordered today by Ninth District Judge Henry S. Martin for John Francis Nester, 21, who was convicted of second degree burglary. Nester was sentenced with a suspended charge of a three-year term given Nester in September on another burglary charge. Nester violated parole after serving 90 days in Bonneville county jail on the first charge, committed a second offense Nov. 26 and was arrested at Las Vegas, Nev., three days later.

BOISE, Dec. 19 (AP)—Greater support for public schools than in many years is being shown now by Idaho citizens, the executive committee of the Idaho Education association was told today.

Elmer Crowley, association executive secretary, said a telephone survey is being conducted by 20 "major" associations around the state. "When the survey is completed," Crowley said, "some $500 persons will have been contacted. We don't know definitely what the poll shows until it is completed but the trend indicates greater support for education than we have seen for many years and also heavy support for a sales tax."

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 19 (AP)—It appeared today that it would be Monday before any solution can be reached to a labor dispute that has halted construction work at the national reactor testing station west of Idaho Falls. Members of Ironworkers local 272 set up picket lines yesterday to protest what they said was unfair non-union labor to remove scrap metal to a Salt Lake City dealer. Yesterday was a day off at the last site, but no move toward settlement of the dispute were made. Other construction workers have observed the lines set up by the Ironworkers.

BOISE, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Idaho division of the American Cancer society listed today four regional meetings planned next year to provide information and inspiration for volunteer workers. Sessions will be held Jan. 26-27 in Twin Falls, Jan. 29-30 in Pocatello, Feb. 5-6 in Moscow and Feb. 8-9 in Boise.

BOISE, Dec. 19 (AP)—Stealing ranked first among the offenses which caused juvenile boys to come under control of the youth rehabilitation division of the Idaho department of health during the year which ended June 30. But Ray W. Weston, director, said that offense was third on the list of those in which girls were involved. The total of new cases sent to the division during the year was 587, including 344 boys and 103 girls. Stealing offenses numbered 146 among the boys but only 25 among the girls. Out-ranking it among the girls were ungovernable, with 33, and running away, with 27.

PARIS, Dec. 19 (AP)—A number of people reported seeing a column of smoke in a remote area west of Montpelier yesterday, causing speculation that an airplane had crashed. But the local Idaho county sheriff's office said the reports appeared to be a false alarm. Two planes flew over the area and spotted nothing and there were no reports of missing planes.

BOISE, Dec. 19 (AP)—Public Works Commissioner Arthur Warren says he hopes moves of state agencies will lead to reopening of the north entrance to the ground floor of the state capitol. The entrance has been closed off for some time and people approaching from the State street side have to go to the east or west ends. The state tax collector's office will move from its basement location to the fourth floor addition to the industrial accident building when space is prepared, about the first of the year. The library will move to the first floor where the administrative offices in the supreme court building will be moved into space occupied by the library but Warren said he believes there would be room for a passage for the entrance.

BOISE, Dec. 19 (AP)—Commercial hatcheries in Idaho produced an estimated 410,000 chicks during November, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today. This is 10 per cent less than in November, 1963, but is 32 per cent above average November output in the preceding five years.

YAYETTE, Dec. 19 (AP)—Sen. Len Jordan, R., Ida., predicted today the Democratic majority in congress will tend to reduce defense spending in favor of programs in the public welfare area. "If sincerely hope and shall work to assure that our defenses are not neglected to provide funds for programs authorized only to satisfy political whim," Jordan told a legislative forum.

BOISE, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Idaho menpower advisory committee has recommended continuation of adult job training programs with its chairman describing them as an "outstanding success."

The committee set a goal of the training of 500 persons in the next two-year fiscal period beginning July 1. State Rep. Orval Hanson, R., Donnellville, the chairman, said 80 per cent of those who have completed training have been placed on jobs, one of the highest rates in the nation. He said the cost per trainee has been one of the lowest in the nation.

MOCALTE, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Idaho Outfitters and Guides association ended a two-day session today after reviewing legislative proposals of the state outfitters and guides board. The association approved a suggestion of the board that the license fee for non-resident guides be raised from $100 to $250. About 75 outfitters and guides from throughout the state attended the session.

LEWISTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—A safe containing $40,000 in notes, contracts and cash were taken from the Hodgson Ford-Tractor company in North Lewiston last night. Police said they have one suspect in custody. The safe was apparently taken to a back room from the office and broken open. The safe was still missing but some of the business papers in the safe were found burned and torn in the back room. Officers were continuing to investigate.

completed. Since the Brewsters live in Salt Lake City, the local American Red Cross office is attempting to arrange a "reciprocity" system of replacement in conjunction with the Twin Falls blood drawing, to be held Jan. 4.

Here's the way the reciprocity plan would work:

The youngster has had a heart defect since birth which slows the main flow of blood and if allowed to develop further, will stop the flow entirely. The main function was discovered until Jimmy was 11 months old, but it was at first thought to be only a heart murmur.

However, when he continued to be sick, additional tests revealed the defect, which affects the main valve of the heart. This around the valve causes it to close, slowing the blood flow.

The Brewster family physician originally had planned that the operation could wait until he was about 6 years old, but because the blood cannot be pumped through the heart, the operation became an emergency and is required next month.

Mrs. Brewster says the defect has not caused him to live an abnormal, inactive life, but his play has been limited.

The boy's operation, however, will require the use of fresh blood not bottled from a blood bank, because the blood cannot be more than 18 hours old.

The LDS church already has recruited enough donors to furnish eight pints of RBC-positive blood, the amount needed during the actual operation.

However, much more blood will be needed after the operation is completed.

Car-Truck Wreck Reported by County Agency

Deputy sheriffs investigated a car-truck accident at 2:30 p.m. Thursday on highway 30 about two miles east of Twin Falls. No serious injuries were reported or citations issued.

According to the investigating deputy, Mrs. Verin B. Dodson, 41, 845 Eastland drive, was driving a 1959 Ford pushing another vehicle on highway 30 when the Ford was struck from the rear by a 1961 Chevrolet, driven by Ralph C. Conner, 49, 143 Locust street.

Officers note that Mrs. Dodson's vehicle had pushed another car from an intersection. The accident occurred about 125 feet south of the intersection.

Conner told deputies that Mrs. Dodson stopped her vehicle but Mrs. Dodson said she did not stop, but she was not hospitalized.

Shoshone Pupils Give Yule Pageant

SHOSHONE, Dec. 19—Christmas at "Orphanville" was the title of the Christmas pageant presented by the school music department Thursday night at the Shoshone school auditorium. The pageant was a performance by the school choir, directed by Mrs. Ralph Anderson, with other teachers of the school system.

Also featured on the program were the grade and high school bands and the high school choir.

Several grades presented parts of the pageant. There were 37 main speaking or musical parts. Louise Larsen was student director of the choir.

Other teachers who assisted were Mrs. Ralph Anderson, Mrs. Joe Broyles, Mrs. Dorothy Clayton, Mrs. Arvin Eldredge, Mrs. Frank Pliska, Mrs. William Flavel, Mrs. M. Hatmaker, Mrs. J. Haynes and George McClure.

Other teachers were Mrs. M. McKendrick, Mrs. James Morris, Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Frank Lane and Mrs. Elmer Hansen, custodians of the school, assisted in staging and preparations.

132 of T. F. Graduates In College

Out of 206 of the 346 persons who graduated from Twin Falls high school in 1964, 132 are attending college in Idaho and other states.

This is the principal piece of information gleaned thus far from a survey being conducted by the Twin Falls school board and school administrators. Boyd Lowe, guidance counselor, is attending to the details of the survey.

Lowe said Friday that only telephone contacts have been made thus far, most of them with 1964 graduates. An article in the Times-News caused a number of graduates from previous years to call the guidance office with the information requested, Lowe said.

He explained that questionnaires will be mailed first to the remainder of the 1964 graduates and to other graduates afterward.

Of the 206 interviewed by telephone, 114 are married, 10 are in the armed services, 132 are in college (93 out of state and 39 in Idaho), eight are in business, four attend beauty school, 33 are employed and five are unemployed.

One purpose of the survey is to determine the need and desire for the vocational, educational youth corps program in Twin Falls high school.

The youth corps plan, part of the educational opportunity act of 1964, covers youth programs applicable to educational institutions. One of the programs designated, the work training program, is for youths at high school level to enable them to assume or continue their high school education or to increase their employability.

Students 18 years of age or older, who feel they will have to drop out of school because of lack of finances or employment, are eligible to apply.

The follow-up questionnaire being mailed to former students requests information on marital status, armed service, education since graduation and employment.

Lutheran Pastors Hold Yule Party

BURLEY, Dec. 19—The annual Lutheran pastors' Christmas party was held Tuesday evening at the Zion Lutheran church, Burley, with the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn A. Koch as hosts.

The Christmas centerpiece was prepared by Mrs. Henry Fry. Prayers for the occasion were given by the Rev. Mr. Koch. A farewell address was given by the Rev. Carl Rathjen, circuit counselor, and a gift was presented to the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Loecker, Cloyer, who are moving to Shrewsbury, Ore., after serving the Clatsop area for 10 years.

Dallas Specialty Store Is Heavily Damaged by Blaze

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 19—Dallas Specialty Store, the Dallas specialty store known around the world for its fashion and merchandising techniques, was smoketroubled and water-soaked today after a fierce five-hour fire that ravaged its upper floors.

Vice President Edward Marcus estimated damage as in excess of $100 million.

More than 400 firemen and 20 pieces of equipment fought the blaze. Clouds of black smoke shrouded the Dallas skyline as firemen poured tons of water into the seven-story building, which was heavily stocked for Christmas shoppers.

Danipie smoke obscured the upper three floors for hours after the alarm was sounded about 8:50 a.m. A night watchman on the fifth floor and a small explosion preceded the flames. Cause of the fire had not been determined when firemen subdued it about 9 a.m.

Stanley Marcus, president of the Neiman-Marcus company, donned a fireman's coat and hat to inspect the sudden interior of the store as soon as the blaze was controlled.

"The parts that were destroyed," he said, "were the newest floors that were completed just two years ago when he added a seventh floor and refurnished the entire fifth floor."

"The greatest damage was done on the fifth floor, where the children's department is located. It was completely gutted. The second and third floors are in part water-soaked. It's not the prettiest scene in the world, I can assure you."

The intense heat cracked some interior walls, but there was no structural damage, nor how long the store would be closed.

Neiman-Marcus company was founded in 1907 by Herbert Marcus, 20, a pioneer project in a frontier state. From its beginning, Neiman-Marcus steadily prospered and widened its sphere of influence to become one of the most widely publicized retail stores in the world.

Now operated by the founder's four sons—Stanley, Edward, Herbert, Jr., and Lawrence—it has branches in North Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston.

Guy Peters Dies at Home In Twin Falls

Guy L. Peters, 55, 420 Third avenue east, died unexpectedly Friday evening at his home.

He was born Oct. 10, 1919, in The Netherlands and came to Wisconsin at the age of 15. He married in 1953. He moved to Amsterdam from Wisconsin in 1952. Until 1954 he operated the Amsterdam general store with his brother, then he farmed in the Amsterdam area until 1959, when he moved to a farm in Hollister. In 1960 he retired from farming and moved to Twin Falls. He was a member of the Twin Falls Grange and the First Methodist church.

Survivors include his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Joseph (Helen) Foster, Twin Falls; three brothers, Gerritt Peters, Twin Falls; Henry Peters, Fond du Lac, Wis.; and Arthur Peters, Waupun, Wis., and a grandson. Two sisters and two brothers preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Twin Falls mortuary chapel with the Rev. Earl Riddle and the Rev. Henry Gerhardt officiating. Condolence services will be held at Twin Falls cemetery. Friends may call at Twin Falls mortuary Sunday and until time of service Monday.

Howsden Will Head C. of C. At Wendell

WENDELL, Dec. 19—Marshall Howsden was elected president of the Wendell Chamber of Commerce at the Wednesday dinner meeting held at Wendell Motor hotel.

Other officers elected were: Alan Johnson, vice president; Gloria Smith, secretary-treasurer; Bill Bunn, Wilbur White, and L. W. Farr, directors. The chamber secretary was instructed to write a letter to the state highway board recommending the combination route for the interstate highway in preference to the desert route.

J. H. Freeman suggested that Niagara Springs park be dedicated as a memorial to the late Emerson Pugh, who was instrumental in establishing the area as a recreational site.

The possibility of having the area authorized as a state park was discussed. The chamber adopted a motion approving the action.

D. M. Gehring volunteered to make the necessary contacts and Freeman agreed to chairman a committee to work on the project.

Johnson's Win Is Top Story in '64

NEW YORK, Dec. 19—President Johnson's landslide election victory topped the list of the biggest stories of 1964 in the annual poll of editors by United Press International.

The Johnson victory was followed closely by the Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the vote of UPI subscribers in the United States and Canada.

The 1964 winners were:

1. Johnson landslide.
2. Khrushchev deposed.
3. Civil rights act becomes law.
4. War in Viet-Nam—U.S. retaliates in Tonkin bay.
5. Communist China detonates its first nuclear device.
6. Goldwater captures GOP nomination.
7. Negro rioting in northern cities.
8. Warren report finds Oswald guilty and executed John F. Kennedy assassination.
9. U.S. surgeon general finds cigarettes a health hazard.
10. Vatican council ratifies new church practices and attitudes.

A close runner-up for inclusion in the list was the Soviet launching of a spaceship with a three-man crew.

Other news stories that were prominent in the balloting were: Labor party returns to power in Britain; Panama severs diplomatic relations with U.S. in Canal Zone dispute; Jack Ruby convicted of murdering John F. Kennedy's assassin.

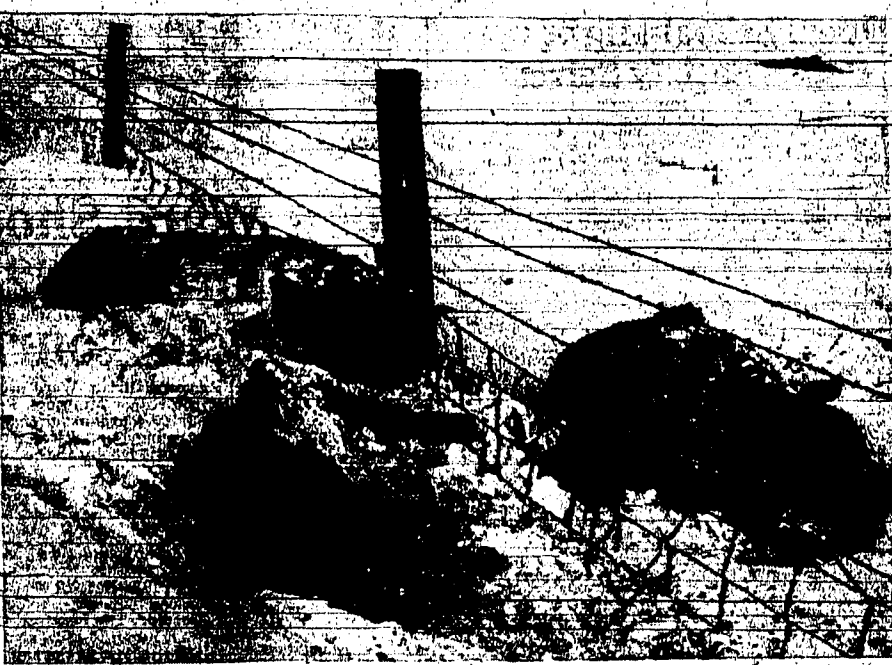

T. F. Man Cited After Accident

Archibald H. Miller, 32, 348 Harrison street, was cited by city police for improper backing after a two-car accident Thursday in the 200 block of Elm street north.

Miller was cited after he backed a 1964 Ford from a driveway into a 1964 Dodge driven on Elm street north by Mrs. Ralene A. Anderson, 30, 1010 Maurice street.

Miller told investigating city officers that he did not notice Mrs. Anderson's vehicle until it was in his path.

No injuries were reported.

BEEF CATTLE lie frozen to death or dying in snow covered range country in eastern Montana near Glendive, battered by a severe winter storm. Some cattle suffocated from ice-jammed in their mouths and nostrils. These heaves were found 22 miles northwest of Glendive; one of the hardest hit areas. Ranchers continued a battle Saturday to rescue cattle that managed to survive. Winter-whipped snow, sleet and rain hit much of the nation Saturday. (AP wirephoto)

Christian Church Youths Have Live Nativity Scene

A live nativity scene show is being presented by the young people of the First Christian church again this year.

The scene can be viewed on the church lawn, Shoshone street and Sixth avenue north, from noon to 1 p.m. and from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Sunday; from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday; and from 2 to 3:30 and from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

The scene also can be viewed from 7:30 until 9 p.m. Christmas eve and from 1:30 until 9 p.m. Christmas day.

The scene has been a project of the church youth for four years and shows, with actors standing in place, the manger where the Christ-child was born.

Also shown are Mary and Joseph, the three wise men, two shepherds and a live donkey and sheep.

High school and junior high school students take shifts standing in position and hold their pose for an hour or hour and a half.

The scene was conducted by Franklin Sharp, Donald Sharp and men of Smith's Electric shop of Twin Falls.

The public is invited to come, see and photograph the scene.

Death Takes D. McArthur At Age of 79

BOULDER, Dec. 19—David McArthur, 79, 317 Thirteenth avenue north, died Saturday afternoon at Meade Valley Memorial hospital of a brief illness.

He was born Jan. 13, 1885, at Paradise, Utah, and married Emma Murray on June 6, 1916, at the Salt Lake City LDS temple. They made their home in 87, Anthony until 1926, when they moved to Jerome. They moved to Boulder in 1934 and farmed in the Fairview area. They moved into town in 1941. Mr. McArthur then worked as a carpenter. He was a member of the LDS church.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one son, James McArthur, Boulder; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Terry, Rexburg, and Mrs. Edith Mains, Woodland, Calif.; and three grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a son, Leroy McArthur.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Boulder LDS church by Bishop H. Schaal. Friends may call at the Albertson-Dickard funeral home Monday and until noon Tuesday. Concluding rites will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Wilford cemetery, St. Anthony.

'Y' Groups Hold Christmas Party For Youngsters

A Christmas party was held at the YMCA-YWCA at 7 p.m. Saturday for all children in South Park, ages seven and under. The party was sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA in conjunction with the South Park Boys' Club and South Park Girls' Club, both "Y" groups.

The children sang, had refreshments, saw movies, and received Christmas bags given by Santa Claus. Children attending the party were accompanied by their parents.

There was coffee, punch and donuts served at the conclusion of the program.

A dance was held following the children's activities for South Park club members and parents.

The South Park Boys' Club is led by Earl Newnam while the girls' activities are conducted by Mrs. Newnam. This is the second year the club has provided a party for the children of South Park.

Rose, Ward Shoot Devils Past Hornets 82-45 and Into Declo Tourney Title

DECLO, Dec. 19—Del Rose and Brian Ward accounted for 50 points between them tonight as they shot the red-hot Murtaugh Red Devils past Declo's Horns 82-45 and won the Declo holiday tournament championship. In the consolation game, Del Rose and Del Rose teamed with the young Raft River Trojans 73-41. The tournament ended with presentation of the title trophy to the Murtaugh team and coach Ke Wilson, host for the meet, and the entire affair proved very successful.

Boise Erases Score Lead for 60-49 Win

BOISE, Dec. 10 (AP)—Boise uncorked a blistering second half attack tonight to post a 60-49 victory of Gooding. The Seafarers, with Ron Adamson leading way, hit on 15 of 26 shots in the first two quarters off the floor at the half with a commanding 36-25 lead.

Moreaugh scouted the Hornets with 26 points in the quarter and really alarmed the door with a 26-point effort in the third period. That gave the Devils a 62-37 lead to play with going into the final eight minutes.

double-scoring figures while Raft River mentor Ruel Barker used the opportunity to give his bench as much experience as possible.

Running of Coleman and Stout Utah Defense Turn Liberty Bowl Into Rout

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 10 (AP) — Ron Coleman, a speedy halfback with more moves than a chess master, led explosive Utah through West Virginia's porous defenses for a 32-6 victory today in college football's first indoor bowl game, the sixth annual Liberty bowl inside Atlantic City's Convention hall. The 5-foot, 8-inch, 172-pound senior from San Francisco bolted 53 yards on a brilliant individual effort to give Utah a 19-0 halftime lead. He carried 15 times for 164 yards, picking his holes smartly behind crisp blocking.

Sports

FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOOVER

If sportsmen have anything to say about it, the Idaho fish and game department will not pick time-depositing as the most important chore of supervising and maintaining a network of state parks.

Idaho's fish and game department is not alone in its limited budget. The fish and game department hardly appears in a position to take on something new.

Last spring Bob Satter, assistant director of the department, said that bureau would accept the responsibility if it were forced upon it—and providing that the big word — the legislature appropriate enough money to cover the added cost.

Idaho's fish and game department was established on revenue derived from license and tag sales, plus some money provided through federal tax on outdoor equipment, game and ammunition. Some of it, particularly for federal money, is dedicated.

Taking pride in its achievement, the department is desperately trying to improve Idaho's already impressive reputation in the sporting world.

But as J. V. Woodward, director of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, said last week-end, the primary item currently is to get as much money as can be safely drawn off the non-dedicated budget has been promised to that end through the five-year program. With much of Idaho's prime recreation land covered by personal, outside interests, the access project must go ahead full steam.

That is one reason the department would like having a federal law, enacted a few years ago, allow a state bureau charged with park care to withdraw 640 acres of federal land.

Idaho has not availed itself of this opportunity, and the reason is simple — right now the state land board is the only group having the authority to exercise the options.

Currently the land board is trying to peddle available valuable recreation area. It is worried about protecting or obtaining any other. The board got away with murder in the name of education last summer but suffice it to say it is at the whims of politicians and political pressure. That's as charitable as we care to be toward that group.

The United States is worried the population will double in the next two or three decades while the demands on outdoor recreation areas will double. Idaho's state park system is quite small enough now but it must look forward, especially to accommodate this growing demand.

It is difficult enough to support any new government bureau. Perhaps Idaho should get its parks service going immediately. The only two choices are that (1) the Idaho fish and game department maintain the wildlife management on areas under the park service supervision and (2) the park service be directed to help the game department on some matters of access and acquisition.

Purdue Edges Wake Forest

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 10 (AP) — Dave Schellhals scored 30 points for Purdue, 23 in the second half, and the Boilermakers edged Wake Forest 38-33 today.

The visiting Deacons, playing their third game in 43 hours, trailed by one point at 34-33 and had possession but lost the ball on a drive with nine seconds to go. Schellhals hit two free throws with two seconds left to give Purdue its three-point winning margin.

Morton Drops Out of School

BRIDGEVIEW, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP) — Craig Morton, the California quarterback who led No. 1, and signed by the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, has dropped out of school.

The university confirmed Friday that Morton had decided to leave school with a little more than a semester of work remaining to get his bachelor's degree in speech. He is expected to complete his course of study starting in the spring semester, which begins next February.

Morton's decision reportedly was made because he was unable to get his class work while he was around the country to accept various honors and to negotiate with the Cowboys.

Allen Named Top Player In Bowl Tilt

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 10 (AP) — Ron Coleman, Utah's back and captain of Utah's Liberty bowl champions, was named the game's most valuable player after Saturday's 32-6 victory over West Virginia.

The 6-foot, 1-inch senior from Missoula, Mont., completed five of 11 passes for 72 yards and carried five times for 28 yards, including a 53-yard touchdown run during which he broke away from several tacklers.

The awards for the outstanding back and linebacker went respectively to Utah's Ron Coleman and West Virginia's Neil Clegg.

Coleman carried 15 times for 164 yards, including the game's most valuable play, a 53-yard touchdown run during which he broke away from several tacklers.

Clegg caught seven passes for 92 yards and West Virginia's only touchdown.

TULSA TIPS REBELS IN BLUEBONNET BOWL

Rhyme Throws for One Score, Runs for Other In Pacing 14-7 Victory

HOUSTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—Jerry Rhyme, Tulsa's pass wizard, ignored a series of hard knocks administered by a tough Mississippi defense while passing and running his Hurricane to a 14-7 victory today over the favored Rebels in the sixth Bluebonnet bowl football game. Mississippi was an 11-point favorite, but Tulsa combined Rhyme's magic with a rough defense of its own to upset the Southeastern conference bowl veteran Rebels in 40-degree weather before a crowd of 50,000.

Patriots Favored to Tip Bills in Playoff

BOSTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—Boston's blitzing Patriots bank on Babe Parilli's passing and Gino Cappelletti's kicking to counter the power of Buffalo's Cookie Gilchrist in Sunday's game for the Eastern division title of the American Football league. Buffalo, leading by one-half game with an 11-2 record to Boston's 10-2-1, can clinch the division crown by winning or tying this final game of the regular season. The home-town Patriots must win. At stake is the right to play in the AFL championship game with San Diego, Saturday, Dec. 26.

Bruins Blitz Eagles for Classic Title

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 19 (AP)—UCLA's defending NCAA basketball champions blitzed Boston college with 18 straight points late in the first half and rolled to a 115-93 victory tonight for the championship of the third annual Milwaukee classic.

The Bruins, ranked fifth in the nation, exploded after staying on even terms for the Eagles for the first 17 minutes. Boston edged in front 49-44 before the Bruins pulled away quickly. Nothing from all angles and coaching free throws, UCLA burst into a 59-43 lead in one minute and 40 seconds. Then Washington sparked the outburst with nine of his 15 points while Coach Goodrich, a southern marksman, contributed five of his game-high of 35.

The Bruins, who exploited their superior speed and height advantage, toyed with the Eagles in the second half in ending their fifth victory in six games. UCLA had only a 69-54 edge in rebounds, but many of its 42 field goals came on tips-in.

Bliss Falls To T.F. Sophs By 53-43

Twin Falls, Idaho, rolled off 10 straight points in the final two minutes Saturday night to break away from a 43-43 stalemate and into a 53-43 victory over the Bliss Bears.

With seldom more than three or four points separating the teams, the end appeared hectic when Bob Robbins hit a free throw to tie it with 3:39 left. Then buckets by Dick Johnson, Gary Blimpson, Fred Cantrell and John Warner, the last two in the closing four seconds, opened up the final margin.

Special Decorations for Others Are Expression of True Christmas Spirit

By NORMA HERZINGER

It is Christmas time again. Homes are aglow with festive lights and decorations and the countless shoppers are scurrying from store to store for that "just right" gift.

The holiday season means many things to many people, but includes the warm renewal of family ties and close friendships as we prepare for Christmas day.

Included among our activities are selecting and wrapping gifts, sending cards, decorating the Christmas tree, traditional caroling for shut-ins and remembering with our loved ones the event we are celebrating.

Through all the bustle and bustle, the spirit of this most joyful season is still in giving for the happiness of others.

One of the forms of giving was expressed this past week as members from several Twin Falls groups gave unselfishly of their time and talents to decorate Magic Valley Memorial hospital, Hazelde and Skyview manor for the many patients and employees.

Members of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital guild spent much time planning and decorating for this special occasion. Many of the windows were festively painted, Christmas trees decorated and elaborate holiday centerpieces displayed throughout the hospital.

Members from the Twin Falls high school art class elaborately painted and decorated the windows at Hazelde and Skyview manor to enhance the seasonal atmosphere for the many guests and employees there.

The Twin Falls junior high Camp Fire Girls groups prepared more than 90 door decorations for Magic Valley Memorial hospital to add to the seasonal atmosphere and the pleasure of the patients.

The generosity of the many workers who helped enrich the Christmas season for others has been greatly appreciated and has not gone unnoticed by community residents.

Seasonal Party Held in Honor Of Husbands

WLB, Dec. 19—Husbands of the Elba LDS Primary officers and teachers were honored at an annual Christmas party and dinner at the ward LDS cultural hall.

The dinner was under the direction of Mrs. Malbourn Barker and Mrs. Arthur Ward. The program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Rex Beecher. Beecher gave the primary instruction lesson, "Feeling, Tasting, Hearing, Smelling and Seeing Christmas." Singing and seeing Christmas.

Primary officers and teachers sang and a piano solo, "Oh Holy Night," was played by Marceus Nye. A solo, "Winter Wonderland," was sung by Nancy Wickel, a violin solo, "Silent Night," was played by Deborah Beecher, and a musical reading was given by Mrs. Malbourn Barker.

A talk, "The Feeling of Christmas," was given by Bishop Orvil Beecher. Singing of Christmas carols by the group completed the program.

The hall was decorated in the Christmas motif, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Chandel. Music was under the direction of Mrs. Arlo Lloyd, with Marceus Nye as accompanist.

The Rite-River dance primary was represented by Mrs. Clarence Barrett, Malta.

Games were led by Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Lloyd. The opening prayer and blessing was given by Bishop Beecher and the closing prayer was given by Rex Beecher.

Angel's Thumbprint Cookies
1/2 cup soft butter
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
2 egg yolks
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 egg whites, unbeaten
1 cup finely chopped nuts
Jelly or jam
Beat butter, shortening, sugar, egg yolks, salt and flavoring together until fluffy.

Add sifted flour and mix to moderately stiff dough. Using level tablespoonful dough for each cookie, roll dough between palms of hands into small balls about one-inch diameter. Dip the balls into unbeaten egg white and roll in chopped nuts.

Place about two-inches apart on ungreased baking sheets. Using thumb make a depression in center of each ball. Fill with jam or jelly.

Bake in moderately slow oven, 325 degrees, for 20 to 25 minutes. Cool thoroughly before storing. Makes two and one-half to three dozen cookies.

Note: Mrs. Lindell says she prefers to use a firm, tart-red jelly in her cookies. "In case you are wondering, there is no baking powder or soda in this recipe," she said. "This is an excellent Christmas cookie. It is perfect for storing or giving for Christmas."

Sandra Bowcut, Bingham Wed in LDS Ceremony

BURLEY, Dec. 19—Sandra P. Bowcut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Marzocco, Kimberly, and Gaylen E. Bingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glad Bingham, Burley, were united in marriage Sept. 11 at the Unity LDS ward chapel.

An arch entwined with greenery and white gladioli tied with white bows and three wedding bells flanked by beauty baskets of miniature pink and lavender gladioli provided the background setting.

Bishop Noel Howcut, uncle of the bride, performed the evening ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by Tom P. Marzocco, daughter of the bride, wore a floor-length Chantilly lace over satin gown. The fitted bodice was accented with lilac point sleeves. The full gathered skirt was adorned by a net over tulle.

Her elbow-length nylon veil of illusion was held by a tulle of seed pearls fashioned by Mrs. Albert Johnson, grandmother of the bride. Her only jewelry was a teardrop necklace, a gift from the bridegroom's mother.

She carried an array of white baby roses surrounded with blue carnations adorned with white satin streamers and bows.

Mrs. Gary Warr, John Day, Ore., aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a green knit ensemble and carried white gladioli.

Bridesmaids were Ethel Stoeck, Dianne Moon, Betty Egan and Yvonne Young. They wore electric-blue taffeta gowns. Each carried white gladioli. Edith carried white gladioli. Edith carried white gladioli.

Teresa Marzocco, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a yellow chiffon dress and carried a miniature bouquet of white gladioli.

Ronald Pilger was best man.

Chris Warr was ringbearer. Ushers were Max Glaesemann and Lonnie Parrish.

Music was played by the traditional wedding music. Rayola Crane was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Sybil Luke.

The bride's mother was attired in a rose knit afternoon dress accented with black patent accessories. The bridegroom's mother selected a white knit afternoon dress. Each wore a corsage of white baby roses. Electric blue decorations with silver leaves and pink roses adorned the wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Guests were served at round tables covered with white cloths and centered with arrangements of dahlias.

Mrs. Delores Lund, sister of the bridegroom, cut and served the wedding cake. Betty Rogg, Karen Trail and Mrs. Fern Howcut presided at the punch bowl. Others assisting with the serving were Renee Larsen, Doreen Doman, Rosemary Walker, Sandy Nielsen and Linda Adams.

Gifts were displayed by Ann Bowcut, Anita Dick, Lois Bowcut, Sammy Henry and Glenda Owens. Marilyn Haamussen, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests.

Opening prayer at the reception was given by Bishop Wayne Oall and the benediction was given by Jerry Bowcut, uncle of the bride.

The bride chose a red and white suit enhanced with the rose corsage from her bridal bouquet for her traveling ensemble.

The bride and bridegroom are graduates of Burley High school. They will reside in Twin Falls, where the bridegroom is employed at Thelsen Motors, Inc.

Relief Society Lesson Given

SPRINGDALE, Dec. 19—"Personal attractiveness, a factor in molding a happy life" was the Relief society work-day lesson presented by Mrs. Noel Howcut.

A demonstration on sewing the band on a skirt was given by Mrs. Raymond Zollinger. Hints and advice were given on the care of skin and hair by Mrs. Owen Grant, who operates a beauty salon in Springdale.

Mrs. Wayne Woodland conducted the meeting and Mrs. Leonard Beckstrand, work director, was in charge of handwork. The handwork consisted of quilting and working on pillow slips and tea towels.

The noon luncheon was served under the direction of Relief society officers. Prayer was given by Mrs. Lydia Kott.

Religious Yule Program Given For Area Group

KIMBERLY, Dec. 19—A religious Christmas program was presented by Mildred Gill at the annual Christmas meeting of the Reeder's guild at the home of Mrs. Ralph Banning.

While Mrs. Aoe Miller projected colored slides, Mrs. Gill gave a description of "The Grotto of the Redemption," located at West Bend, Ia. It depicted the life of Christ and was made entirely of ornamental rocks from all over the world.

Agate stones from Idaho formed the ceiling in one grotto. The life-size statues of Mary and Jesus are made of Carrara marble from Italy.

Following the pictures, Mrs. Ralph Banning, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Laughlin, sang.

Mrs. Banning, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Laughlin were presented with ribbon rose corsages and there was the usual gift exchange.

Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Laughlin and Mrs. John Nelson, who served flaming individual Christmas plum puddings.

The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Cliff Pallas. New officers will assume their duties at this time.

Judy Hunt Is Honored

FILED, Dec. 19—Judy Hunt was guest of honor at a party at the young people of the United Missionary church in observance of her birthday anniversary.

MISS AND MRS. LARRY WALDEN

Miss Bernardi, Walden Recite Nuptial Vows

PILER, Dec. 19.—Penny Rae Bernardi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil D. Bernardi, and Larry J. Walden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merl Walden, all Piler, were united in marriage Dec. 6 at the First Baptist church, Twin Falls.

The Rev. Ernest Hasselblad performed the double ring ceremony before the altar which held an arrangement of white and turquoise-colored chrysanthemums. Large baskets of white and turquoise-colored chrysanthemums and candles holding white taper completed the background setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and was escorted down the aisle by her grandfather, Emil Bernardi. She wore a sheath gown of pearly blue and imported French lace which was fastened with a fitted bodice, modish scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves.

A hand-tipped pattern of the lace was appliqued on the neckline and the skirt panel. The detachable over-skirt fell into a chapel train.

She wore a short veil of bridal illusion held by a crown of pearls and lilies and leaves. She carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums with accents of ivy on a white ribbon, which was a gift from her aunt, Mrs. Edgar Allred.

She wore a small gold cross, the traditional blue sash and a good luck penny in her shoe.

Rocky Bernardi, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a turquoise-colored gown of silk, de sole and a sash of white and a dome-shaped skirt. She wore a rhinestone pendant on a silver chain, a gift from the bride and carried a wand of white chrysanthemums accented with white satin leaves.

Bridesmaids were Nora McDermitt, Nancy Lancaster and Linda Lewis, cousin of the bride. They were attired like the maid of honor and each carried a wand of white chrysanthemums and white satin leaves. Each wore a gold chain with a pearl pendant, a gift from the bride.

John Lewis, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. He carried a white wicker basket trimmed in blue and filled with white petals. She was dressed in a gown made like that of the bride and wore a pearl crown with a veil of bridal illusion.

Randy Grubbs, cousin of the bridegroom, carried the rings on a lace-trimmed white brocade pillow. Thomas Carter and Mickey Knight served as candlelighters. Raymond Walden, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Wayne Hah, Melvin Hine and Richard DeVall.

Nancy Brackett, organist, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Roger Kalbfleisch, soloist.

The bride's mother chose a turquoise-colored brocade sheath dress with matching jacket and hat, brown accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a white wool sheath dress with red accessories and a red carnation corsage.

Mrs. Emil Bernardi, grandmother of the bride, wore a blue crepe dress accented with a white carnation corsage.

1964 National Competition Winner Named

KETCHUM, Dec. 19—Mrs. Thurman Hansen is national winner of the 1964 wool competition held in New York City. She received notification of the fact and a $150 check in the mail. Her winning entry was an all white afghan with light blue accents. She entered the afghan in the Lincoln county fair, Shoshone, last fall, where it won first place and then was sent directly to New York City for entry in the national competition.

"I also took first place at the Shoshone fair with a white sweater made with thick and thin yarn in the daisy design, but this did not place at national," she said.

Winning first place in knitting contests is not new to Mrs. Hansen, although this is her first national recognition. Last year she took first place in the state with an afghan entered at the Blackfoot fair. Two years ago she won first place for her entry of a baby set in the Red Heart contest sponsored by the Richfield Grange.

"I am very proud of the various ribbons I've won at the Twin Falls and Lincoln county fairs," she said.

Mrs. Hansen first began knitting when her youngest son, Tracy, who now resides in Twin Falls, was six years old. He said that time she had liked to crochet and do embroidery work.

"But after I started knitting, my interest in other fancy work dwindled," she said.

Winning first place in knitting contests is not new to Mrs. Hansen, although this is her first national recognition. Last year she took first place in the state with an afghan entered at the Blackfoot fair. Two years ago she won first place for her entry of a baby set in the Red Heart contest sponsored by the Richfield Grange.

"I wasn't long before she was knitting sweaters, dresses and coats for her children."

"People have asked me why I do not use a knitting machine," Mrs. Hansen said. "That would take all of the originality out of the garments."

Mrs. Hansen knows the secret way—or what some people call the foreign way. To her it is the easiest and she believes the fastest and makes for more even stitches.

However, I do not believe folks who knit by throwing the yarn over the needle should change, if it is easier for them to do it that way."

Mrs. Hansen has never been able to "sit still" and do nothing while she is resting she likes to knit.

"When we are at home on the ranch at Richfield I go to bed early. If anything wakes me and I can't go back to sleep I knit until my husband goes up. I get more done during those hours than most any other time."

Last year Mrs. Hansen knit outfits for more than 100 Barbie dolls—each one a different color—establishment in Mountain Home.

She has just completed two sweaters which will be used as prizes for winners of high series at bowling in the Sun Bowl here. The Sun Bowl is owned and operated by her son, Gail Hansen, and his wife.

Mrs. and Mr. Thurman Hansen are spending the winter at the Alpine Villa lodge, just across the street from the bowling alley.

American War Mothers Have Potluck Dinner

The American War Mothers met at the American Legion hall for a potluck dinner. Mrs. W. O. Stone was chairman, assisted by Mrs. Doretha Atkinson, Mrs. Victoria Anderson and Mrs. Minnie Ogle.

Tables were decorated in a Christmas motif by Mrs. Delmar Blumway, Mrs. Beale Sims and Mrs. Grace Laubheim.

Mrs. Blumway and Mrs. Sims were in charge of the gift exchange following the dinner.

Mrs. Irl Bartlett presented the flag and Mrs. Sims gave the prayer. Mrs. Victor Young was a guest. Mrs. Sims presented a repelling.

Mrs. Blumway and Mrs. Sims are in charge of the Christmas basket for a needy family to be given by the group.

Plans for the AWMM annual turkey dinner were made and set for noon Jan. 8 at the American Legion hall.

Mrs. Dewey Julian will purchase and roast the turkey and make the dressing. Mrs. W. O. Stone will furnish the mashed potatoes and Mrs. Laubheim will make the rolls. Other members are asked to bring a covered dish and own table service. Members may bring guests.

Husbands Feted At Yule Dinner

MALTA, Dec. 19—LDS Primary officers and teachers held a Christmas dinner in honor of their husbands in the LDS cultural hall. With Mrs. Maylon Whitting, primary second counselor, conducting.

The holiday theme was used, including candy canes, bells and holly decorations were used under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Repworth, Mrs. Esther Parke, Mrs. Jerry Udy, Mrs. Jay Harper and Mrs. George Soderberg.

Mrs. David Hutchinson and Mrs. Wallace Briggs welcomed the guests. Games were conducted by Wanda Hutchinson, Verna Tracy, Marie Barrett and Marlene Taylor.

Invocation and blessing on the food was given by Rawlins Harper.

The program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Kay Harper, Mrs. Marie Ellison, Mrs. Selma Tracy, Mrs. Jack Wright and Mrs. Maylon Whitting.

MRS. THURMAN Hansen is shown with one of the many items she has knitted. Mrs. Hansen has just received word that she is a national winner of 1964 in the wool competition held in New York City. She also received a check for $150. Her winning entry was an all white afghan with light blue accents. (Times-News photo)

What to give Children at Christmas

Because children believe, our own beliefs are deepened.

The gifts they give us are enormous, being nothing less than faith, wonder, love, laughter, trust. They give in innocence and without question what cannot be bought in any store for any money — themselves.

What are we to give in return? Surely it must be more than things—the games, the toys, the candy. And more indeed than can be given in a single day.

It must be that which only we can create, alone and with others... a better, much better, world for these our children to inherit.

To this hope, we rededicate ourselves.

Loss of Sight Is Ignored

By RAY JIMISON
The Gastonia Gazette

BOWLING GREEN, S. C., Dec. 19.—Vicki Wray, the fat, wide-eyed, little girl with an eye ailment, tucked at the nation's heartstrings last Christmas, has grown two inches and is 12 pounds heavier. Vicki seems just like any other three and one-half-year-old, although she is totally blind. She lost her second eye to a rare disease, retinal glioma, last March 6. The operation apparently saved her life.

"It's a miracle," said Vicki's mother, Morris Wray, 33. "I thought for a while I was going to lose my little girl."

If no trace of the disease appears by the time Vicki is 6, doctors say she will be pronounced cured. Both of Vicki's eyes were removed to keep the malignancy from spreading.

A year ago—just a week before Christmas—Vicki's story was told to the nation. She was scheduled to lose her second eye and her father, Robert Wray, wanted to give her an early Christmas.

With heavy hospital and medical bills, Wray, a $50-a-week textile worker, was prepared for a bleak Christmas for Vicki and her eight brothers and sisters. When the nation read Vicki's plight, it responded with hundreds of gifts and thousands of dollars. Letters, cards and money poured into the tiny postoffice at Bowling Green.

When the outpouring was over, about $18,000 had been sent to the Wray family. The money was put in a trust fund for Vicki. It is used only to pay hospital and medical bills and for necessities.

Vicki now weighs 39 pounds. Her complexion is still pale, but her enthusiasm is spirited.

She will go to Duke hospital on Jan. 2 for another of her regular six-month checkups.

It will be an uphill battle for the girl who will have to grow accustomed to getting along in the world with no sight. The hardest part of the battle will be the watch and wait period between now and the time she becomes 6 years old.

If pronounced cured, then her road to adjustment will be the same as any other blind child.

Whatever the outcome the thousands of persons who responded with gifts, money and best wishes will be praying that she will recover.

The part of being blind is ignored, until it is determined that she will live.

AT THE ALTAR of the Church of the Ascension, Episcopal, Twin Falls, the rector of the parish, the Rev. Warren L. Howell, offers prayer in spiritual preparation for the Festival of the Nativity of Jesus Christ, commonly called Christmas. The altar color of purple in advent is a vivid reminder that the season of four weeks before Christmas is a period of penitence and self-examination, which gives way on Christmas eve to white, declaring the joy of Christendom at the birth of the Saviour. Churches of Magic Valley plan special observances during the week. (Times-News color photo)

Decorated Yule Trees Basis for Unique Display

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP)—A magic world of Christmas trees, trimmed to suit celebrities, features:

Trees with tiny bells and sea-shell shells, trees with bougainvillea and aunts, trees with blue and green with fruit, and even a tree adorned with kitchen utensils.

The collection of 31 decorated yule trees, each representing the personal design taste of a famous personality, fills the Hallmark gallery in New York and will remain until the end of the month.

The exhibition, planned in collaboration with the Children's Aid society, shows that celebrity friends of the society—ranging from actress Helen Hayes to Francis Cardinal Spellman—believe in trimming trees the "take-your-breath-away" way.

Mina Hayes collects angels from all over to decorate her tree, inspired by her daughter's affection for them as a child.

Her tree is decorated with folk art angels from Mexico, Poland, Austria, Germany, Italy, Scandinavia and parts of South America. The Scotch pine is lighted with tiny clear bulbs.

Cardinal Spellman's tall fir is covered with tiny bells and brightly painted wood cutouts of angels, animals and other Christmas symbols.

Actor Maurice Evans suggested a tree with a nautical theme. It contains many varieties of shells and other sea life.

Phyllis McGinley's tree features many kitchen utensils—spoons, along with hundreds of seaplanes and "miniature" shoes. Her new book, "Sixpence in Her Shoe," provided the theme.

Bulle Harriss suggested a tree lighted with tiny gold lights and covered with cutout brownie figures as well as brownie scenes mounted on blocks and balls. She drew on her childhood remembrances of Christmas for inspiration.

The Jilly Pulitzer tree is a table spruce decorated with oranges and lemons, butterflies and bows in purple, yellow and orange from fabric used for the famous "Jilly" dress she created. Tiny deep-green lights and orange tiger-lilies complete the tree.

An interest in old homes suggested the theme for the tree by Mrs. Edward Dorell Stone, wife of the architect. It is covered with small madonna icons tied to the spruce with gold ribbon.

Buzzy Parker's tree is a spruce laden with candy, nuts, fruits and tallow candles. It recalls Christmas she remembers from her childhood in Florida and is topped with the traditional symbol of hospitality, the pineapple.

The Norman Vincent Pease tree is trimmed with popcorn and cranberry strings, paper chains and cut-out angels. Candles are clipped to the branches with antique candleholders.

"Mumble beasts" such as those represented at the stable where Christ was born make up the Dick Van Dyke tree. The animals comprise a good assortment of folk art and animal sculpture from Mexico, Poland, Germany, Scandinavia, Italy, Japan, Switzerland, Belgium, Spain and the United States.

Harvey Schmidt's interest in music suggested a tree surrounded by instruments. An antique music-stand with candles holds the score for "The Fantasticks."

Artist Cecil Beaton's tree is trimmed with oranges, lemons, limes and green nuts.

Pink cabbage roses, pink velvet bows and pink velvet ribbon ball ornaments decorate the Hans Rubenstein tree with pink lights.

Birds of all kinds cover the branches of comedian Jonathan Winters' tree. It is topped by an angel.

More traditional, Roddy Macdonald's tree is covered with silver balls of all sizes, silver icicles and white candles.

Carol Burnett favors a small tree for a table. It has blue and green ornaments and blue lights. Displayed nearby on the table are antique dolls.

The Paul Newman-Joanne Woodward tree, a large fir, features lots of Christmas cookies—that's all.

Artist Andy Warhol leaves something to the imagination. His tree is a blue spruce—undecorated.

But by and large the average American prefers the traditional evergreen tree and the decorations vary from area to area. In recent years the synthetic tree has made a favorable impression on much of the citizenry. The synthetic tree can be stored and used year after year with no tree mess.

The falling needles and the fresh pine smell contribute much to the erection of a Christmas tree.

Christmas is a time for families and tree decoration, while an individual matter, is mainly a family project.

DWARFED BY huge propeller on World War II torpedo bomber, now used for aerial spraying, is Charles Reeder, operator of the service which bears his name, at the local airport. Demands for Public Access in Idaho Mean Only Santa Could Fill Need

BY JIM HENNING

Idaho fish game department, NOISE, Dec. 19.—Only a Santa Claus in the heroic magnitude of the legendary American Jumbos, whose feats still are retold in the tall tales of the frontier, could possibly bring all the gifts of new public access lands together in one place for the approval of Idaho sportsmen at Christmas time.

Indeed it is an unthinkable task even to get all the hunters and fishermen to the same place at the same time.

Just this last fiscal year, for example, the Idaho fish and game department either bought or leased some 23 different parcels of land around the state to give rights-of-way across private property to major fishing and hunting waters. This does not include eight new fish and wildlife management areas also acquired during the 1963-64 budget year, or three administrative sites for Department buildings.

Neither does it recognize some four acres and three other access properties bought or leased in other years to bring the whoping total to 106 throughout the state.

That is the reason a map showing their locations now is being produced. It will not be ready for free distribution to hunters and fishermen by Christmas, but will be available for easy reference early next year.

More money by far goes into the development of access properties and management areas than is paid for their acquisition, and this year—17 previously purchased tracts were made more usable because of new roads, parking areas, fences, cattle guards, boat ramps and sanitary facilities. These are in the counties of Bear Lake, Benewah, Bingham, Boise, Bonner, Boundary, Canyon, Custer, Kootenai, Owyhee, Power and Teton.

Some of the properties are located in parts of two or three counties. New access sites are located in the counties of Blaine, Benewah, Bingham, Boise, Boundary, Camia, Custer, and Teton.

Curtailment of Flying Activity Sets Stage For Winter Maintenance at Local Airport

When the flying slows down, because of weather, lack of forest fires and lack of spray projects on croplands, the ground work starts.

That's the way it is at the Reeder Flying service, headquartered at the Twin Falls airport. The organization is the largest independently operated flying service in the state.

Charles Reeder, owner-operator of the service, said that at the present time work is concentrating on maintenance of three helicopters (two six and six or seven TBM Gruman single engine planes, about two thirds of the number based here).

Repair and maintenance work on the helicopters and the famed World War II torpedo bomber planes takes place in different hangars and with different licensed mechanics in charge.

The engines of the helicopters, for instance, could be turned as being practically "delicate" when compared to the 1,000 horsepower piston type motors which drive the former torpedo bombers. These engines, which tip the scales at about 2,000 pounds each, are one of three most powerful piston type motors still used in airplanes.

In an age when passenger travel, for instance, is turning to jet motors an operator like Reeder still "hangs on" to the piston type power plants. Why?

"It's this way," Reeder explained. "Most of our work is in fire fighting and spraying and jet planes are just too fast for this work. The TBM's can be slowed to around 140 miles an hour and this is an ideal speed for this type of work."

Mechanics are able to make practically all repairs on the "chopper" engine right in the local hangar—but with the great 1,000 horsepower motor it is a different story.

Carlin needed parts and had to hold them in position for maintenance at the Reeder Flying service, Ken Madley, right, government licensed airplane and

HUGE MOTORS which tip the scales at 2,000 pounds, and when running, produce 1,000 horsepower, need special equipment to hold them in position for maintenance at the Reeder Flying service, Ken Madley, right, government licensed airplane and engine mechanic, works on one of the motors, operated by Gene Hamilton, his helper, turning the piston crank at left. Reeder Flying service provides this service to the piston type motors among the largest still used in airplanes. (Times-News photo)

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

Christmas is Jesus

ROBERT D. JACKSON
First Church of the Nazarene
Christmas is a wonderful time of the year. There is something in the holiday season which stirs the hearts of young and old alike. We all are thrilled with the joyous spirit of anticipation as Christmas draws nearer. But what is Christmas? Christmas is Jesus. It is not trees, tinsel and toys, or treats, turkey and trimmings. It is not just Christmas Eve, E. O. Jackson programs, Christmas decorations, or even the wonderful giving of gifts at Christmas time. At the heart of Christmas is God's great gift to us, Jesus, the Babe of Bethlehem. From the Christmas story as given in the Gospels we see the wonder, the glory and the majesty of Christmas.

The wonder of Christmas is that on this day God came to be with us. Such a thing seems impossible and incredible. It is almost beyond the comprehension of our minds that the God of the universe who created this world and all that is in it should come and be with us, the mere creatures of this speck of dust. But the God of Heaven did. The angel spoke to Joseph and said:

"Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us." Matthew 1:23.

This Jesus who spoke of himself as the light of the world and the bright and morning star came to be with us in our dark hours of trouble, in sorrow, in pain, and to cheer us. This is why Christmas is such a joyous, happy occasion.

When Zacharias was naming his son, John the Baptist, he said, "Through the tender mercy of our God, whereby the day spring from on high hath visited us; to give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace." Luke 1:78,79.

Jesus came to deliver us from the power of evil so that we might serve him in holiness of heart and right living. "That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him all the days of our life." Luke 1:74,75.

Although Jesus has ascended to the Father, God is still with us in the person of the Holy Spirit. Jesus promised before He left His disciples: "And I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that He may abide with you forever; even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him, for He dwelleth with you, and shall be in you: I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you." John 14:16-17.

God is still with us today! This is the wonder of the Christmas story. The glory of Christmas is that on this day our Saviour was born. As the angel from heaven stood by Joseph he told him what this precious Christmas gift from God was coming to do, "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus: for He shall save His people from their iniquities." Matthew 1:21.

On that beautiful, starry night the angels appeared to the shepherds and spoke to them of the Saviour which had been born in the manger at Bethlehem. They said to them, "Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the City of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men." Luke 10:1,14.

Zacharias, Simeon and Anna, all prophets, spoke of the redemption and salvation which Jesus had come to provide for His people. This salvation which Jesus came to provide is the glory of Christmas. For it is men everywhere can be saved from the power and the penalty of sin.

The Majesty of Christmas is that on this day the King of the Ages established his royal throne upon the earth. It had been prophesied that this Jesus who was born in Bethlehem would set up His royal throne. The prophet Isaiah had said, "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace."

"Of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgement and with justice from henceforth even forever." Isaiah 9:6,7.

In speaking to Mary before the birth of Jesus the angel said to her, "And behold thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name Jesus. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David; and he shall reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of his kingdom there shall be no end." Luke 1:31-33.

east, and are come to worship him." Matthew 2:1,2.

This Jesus came on the first Christmas to set up his throne and rule in the hearts of men and women. Of his kingdom there will be no end. Other kingdoms will rise and fall. His will spread and increase forever. Jesus is the King of our hearts. This is the Majesty of Christmas. Christmas is not Christmas of Christmas.

Peace has come to dwell with us. When the glory of our Saviour shines within our hearts then we know the true meaning of Christmas. When the King of the Ages has established his throne in our hearts and rules there as the Prince of Peace then we know the true meaning of Christmas.

RUPERT WILLIAMS at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah. Williams, will be one of 25 students touring the Middle East and Asia in the next few months as part of the "Curtain Time, USA" show from the university. He is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Williams, Rupert, and will appear both as soloist and with singing and dancing groups.

Rupert Girl to Tour Asia As Part of College Show

RUPERT, Dec. 19—Janice Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Williams, Rupert, will tour 12 countries of the Middle East and Asia next spring as a member of the famous "Curtain Time, USA" show from Brigham Young University. Miss Williams is one of 25 students who will make the tour, sponsored by the U. S. state department in the interest of international understanding. The variety show will visit February through May in Ceylon, India, Nepal, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Egypt, Iraq, Syria, Turkey, Greece, Lebanon and Jordan. Their final stop will be in Vienna, Austria, where the group will perform in the World Music Festival, the first college variety show recorded on an album. The group will be briefed by representatives of the state department in etiquette, economics, history, customs and beliefs of the countries where they will visit. The performers will be goodwill ambassadors participating in student panels, seminars, informal discussion groups and lectures wherever they go.

This will be the 11th student tour abroad provided by Brigham Young University and many of the performers of the current group already have toured in the Orient and Europe. In the East, Miss Williams will perform as a soloist and also with a singing and dancing group. She was prominent in Minico high school in musical productions and at Brigham Young University since September, 1963, she has been a member of opera workshops.

Before coming to BYU, she attended Hicks college where she sang in "Messiah," "La Traviata" and "Carmen." While at BYU she has participated in several operas including "The Magic Flute," "Rigoletto" and the "Night Bell."

She has also placed in regional finals for amateurs for the state pop opera out of Salt Lake City and Denver.

A LIVE NATIVITY scene will decorate the front lawn of the Methodist church in Gooding. Not in the picture are animals, including a donkey and sheep, which will be used for the scene. December 21, 22 and 23. Young people of the church are co-operating with teachers to display the scene the three nights.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Youths and teachers of the GOODING Methodist church school are combining talent and hard work to present something new in Christmas decorations for people in and around Gooding—a live nativity scene. Young people will dress in clothing appropriate to the time of the birth of Christ and the scene will even feature live animals. The scene will be in place from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in front of the church at 805 Main street. A loudspeaker will play Christmas hymns during the time. The young people are from the sixth-grade class, Junior High school and Youth Fellowship groups of the church.

—Mrs. Frank Stone, Mrs. Larry Robertson and Mrs. Bernard Bodmer are teachers who are donating their time to help with the project. Behind the scenes work for them includes the changing of costumes every half hour, and no doubt, if the weather remains cold, much support to those "out in the cold."

The youngsters will work in "shifts," but even at that Mrs. Stone warned all of them to be sure to wear lots of warm clothes under their costumes. She has acquired a lot of the costumes over the years by buying unwanted clothing at rummage sales, and several of the costumes were made some years ago by women of the church.

Anyone wanting to see the unusual scene is urged to drive by the church any of the three nights. If there isn't anyone there, Mrs. Stone said they will be changing "shifts," and she asks that people wait a few minutes for the youngsters to get in place.

Another adult helping with the project is Mrs. John Faulkner, who has the dubious honor of getting animals for the scene. Mrs. Stone added that the children will also be in place on Christmas eve for a little while as people come to the delight service to be conducted in the sanctuary that evening.

Mrs. C. E. Spence, Glenn Perry, has a noteworthy collection of salt and pepper shakers. It all began in 1941 when a relative

Wrong Number

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 10 (AP)—The phone flipped at Mrs. Hugh Allen's apartment. Through a quirk in the mechanism somewhere, Mrs. Allen got more than 200 wrong numbers in two days.

Among the parties sought were an airline, paint store, doctors' offices, a hotel and automobile firms, she said.

"I got real shaky," she said, after the trouble was "pretty much corrected" yesterday.

One caller asked if it wasn't the airline "why do you keep on answering the phone?"

Another caller was a telephone company employee—he was trying to get the public library.

asked her if she would like a special set.

She now has at least 200 pairs, including ones from Jamaica, Cuba, Japan, Anchorage, Alaska and others from 10 different states.

The first set was a pair of pelicans, given to her by Mother Spence. The smallest set is a pair of 23 bullets, and the largest set being the Liberty Bell and the United States Capitol building.

NFO Officer Is Club Speaker

BUHL, Dec. 10—An informative program on the aims and purposes of the National Farmers organization was presented by E. B. (Bill) Hicks, president of the Twin Falls county NFO unit, during the Buhl Lions club dinner meeting Tuesday night in the R and R cafe banquet room.

Hicks also gave highlights of the activities and excerpts from speeches made by guest speakers during the recent NFO convention held in Minneapolis. The program concluded with a question period.

Mrs. Spence is a member of the King Hill Grange, Rebekah lodge, and the Order of Eastern Star, and has salt and pepper shakers emblematic of each organization.

She has a china cupboard and a "waiter" filled with this collection, although she herself has purchased only three sets.

Mrs. Spence also has a collection of cups, saucers and antique plates and is now starting a collection of bells. She enjoys showing her collections and explaining where and how she received each item.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Guy Kennedy, Jerome, Wishes He Had 20 More Years to Give to Scouting

JEROME, Dec. 10 — Guy E. Kennedy, Jerome, has one wish and that is that it might have been physically possible for him to work with the boys' Scouts for 20 more years.

Kennedy began his Scouting work in 1945 at the age of 24 when he was named institutional representative for Cub Scouts pack 30 of the Methodist church. His job was to represent the unit at district and council meetings. He also served one year as district commissioner.

In 1952, when the Scoutmaster of Troop 30 was unable to continue, Kennedy stepped in and finished his term and was later named Scoutmaster.

In 1954, Kennedy was elected to the Order of the Arrow, a fraternity for outstanding campers at Scout camp. He was awarded the Scoutmaster Key, a district award for outstanding achievements in Scouting, in May, 1956.

During the summer of 1958, he attended the Scoutmaster training course at the Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, N.M.

He was awarded the silver bear award, which is the highest award presented by the Scout council for unselfish devotion to Scouting.

His Scout troops received the governor's award several times at summer camps.

Under Kennedy's supervision and guidance as Scoutmaster, 20 boys have earned the Eagle badge. In November, 1960, four young men, Hal Stoltz, Jerry Clifton, Eugene Harder and Thomas Mahan, were awarded their Eagle badges by Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

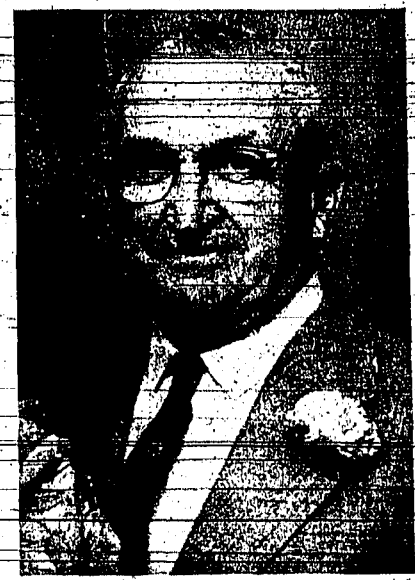

Since the first ceremony Walter Harper, Robert Hall, Tom Stoltz, Robert Harder, Eugene Hite, Ronnie Fager, Tim Fuller, Carroll Campbell and Douglas Williams have received their eagles in individual courts of honor.

In December, 1962, seven young men from troop 30 received their Eagle badges. They were Steve Blunt, Jim Sinclair, Donald McElwain, Gurn and Gary Walcott, Danny Maddox and Olma Newlan.

Under Kennedy's inspiration, numerous boys have earned their God and country awards.

The first summer camp was started in 1949 and was held at Lightfoot Bar, at the south fork of the Boise river, until the opening of Camp Cape Horn in 1956.

Kennedy stated he has missed only one summer camp, in the summer of 1960 when he was at the National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, since he began working with the Scouts.

He missed one summer camp, held at Fairfield, at which time his assistant took his place. Twenty to 25 boys accompany the Scoutmaster at summer camps but, Kennedy stated, he has had as many as 35 boys.

During the summer of 1959, while at Camp Cape Horn with his troop, he joined a group of Boy Scouts on the Ma-I-Shu trail, a 50-mile hike over the Sawtooth mountains.

Starting at Cape Horn they crossed over through Neck peak, down into the Boise region, back up over Greyhound ridge, then down to the middle fork of the Salmon river, fording the Salmon river, they went on to Sheep Eater Hot Springs and then to Flat Creek bridge and to camp at the spot where Rapid river flows into the middle fork.

They continued down Rapid river to the ranger station where the watershed divides. At the ranger station, they were picked up and taken over Vanity summit and then walked the remaining six miles into Camp Cape Horn. The trail used at the old Ma-I-Shu trail which is known as the 50 mile, although the actual distance covered was 70 miles.

Kennedy stated that this hike separated the "boys from the men," however, it is interesting to note that none of the boys dropped by the wayside.

He attended the national Boy Scout jamboree at Colorado Springs in 1960 and served as Scoutmaster of troop 71. Upon their return, Kennedy was presented a trophy by the troop.

"When asked why he went into Scouting, he stated that he enjoyed working with young people and the outdoor life. When his own family was young, he was so busy making a living that he could not devote enough of his time to his own boys, Kennedy continued. So now he feels perhaps he is doing something worthwhile by giving a helping hand.

It is quite evident that he has succeeded far beyond his fondest dreams because of the affection and respect that is shown to him by the young men he has worked with, their parents, members of the Methodist church and Jerome residents.

He officially retired from the Scout program in February, 1964, on the advice of his physician and because of the concern felt by his family, at the age of 72.

Troop 30 presented him with a plaque which reads, "In appreciation for many years of Scouting," and the Methodist Men presented him with a Stormscope with the inscription, "Guy E. Kennedy, contribution to Scouting."

On Dec. 4, Ex-Scoutmaster Kennedy presented Gary Colay an Eagle badge. Gary had attained the rank of Eagle Scout in February, 1964, while working under Kennedy in troop 30.

Kennedy was born June 20, 1901, at Merina, Neb., and moved soon after to Alnsworth, Neb., where his father was a cattle rancher. At the age of 12, the family moved to Broken Bow so the children could continue their schooling.

In 1913 they moved to Dunning, Neb., where Kennedy met and married Blanche Taylor April 17, 1916. They have four children, Mrs. Harold Crook, Jerome; Sidney Kennedy, Portland, Ore.; Larry Kennedy, Ashland, Ore.; and Mrs. Art Bligh, Kearns, Utah.

He and his brother engaged in ranching until 1920, when he moved to Idaho and settled on the Salmon tract, where he farmed for 10 years.

In 1930 they moved to the north side and farmed for seven years in the Appleton district.

In 1937 they moved into Jerome and he worked parttime in the sheep industry and at the Farmer's elevator. In March, 1942, he began working fulltime at the elevator and continued working there until his retirement in 1957 at the age of 56.

Since that time his work with the Scout program and the Methodist church has kept him busy.

Perhaps the key to Kennedy's success with young people is the fact that he has never lost the art of getting along with youth, and while stressing discipline, honesty and perseverance, he still commands the love and respect of each boy with whom he has worked.

In the 10 years that he worked with the Scouting program, he dedicated himself to the youth of Jerome.

SUMMERTIME ACTIVITY is turned into Christmas profit. Filer Methodist Youth Fellowship members convert pine cones, dried wood and driftwood into decorative winter arrangements. From left are Ronald Velt, Ruth Pitts, Pamela Gardner and Charles Kreligh. Some of the money will go to the missionary fund and some money will be used to furnish the MYF room at the church. Seasonal Arrangements Sold by Filer Youth Group to Help Decorate Room

BY MRS. REUBEN LEBMAN
Times-News Correspondent
FILER, Nov. 28 — Methodist Youth Fellowship members of the Filer Methodist church have spent many evenings making winter arrangements which they plan to sell before Christmas. Work has been done under the direction of Mrs. Morris Carlson, counselor.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson took the young people on a trip to Redfish lake in the Sawtooth mountains this fall where they gathered pine cones, acorns, driftwood and various dried weeds and grasses.

These they have made into a number of attractive arrangements, centerpieces and Christmas decorations.

Using dishes, vases, even baskets, as bases, they have covered styrofoam cones with the cones, acorns and nuts. Small artificial fruits have been added for touches of color. Some of the trees have been left natural color and some have been sprayed gold.

The young people also have made an assortment of wreaths, candle arrangements, and unusual candle holders. With the use of madonna figurines as focal points, they have added driftwood and greens for beautiful Christmas centerpieces.

Trees made of small acorns and nuts and mounted on boards covered with red felt make striking phoques.

Small children will enjoy the candy trees which are cones of styrofoam completely covered with a variety of gumdrops and hard candies.

The MYF is selling these articles at their meeting room in the church before Christmas. Some of the money made from sales will go toward the MYF missionary fund while the rest will help decorate and furnish their new meeting room in the church.

The room is partly finished at this time. The counselors and fellowship members are doing the work themselves. They have purchased wood paneling and have covered the walls of the room. They hope in time to cover the ceiling and tile the floor.

They are also getting their own furniture for their youth room. Most of this has been donated to them and they state they appreciate offerings of furniture and money for this purpose.

*An Invitation from Your Times-News Tour Hosts
Gus and Betty Kelker*

You'll see these 3 islands:

OAHU:

The "Aloha Island" offers jet-set excitement in a jeweled setting of jade green mountains in turquoise sea. Here is Honolulu—gay and glamorous, colorful and cosmopolitan—and here is the wonderful world of Waikiki, with its world-famed beach, smart shops and delightfully pleasant resort hotels, from which we have picked for you THE ILIUKAI at the Yacht Harbor, convenient both to downtown and to Waikiki. The charm of the Orient blended with Polynesia will enchant you in this tropical paradise for four unforgettable days.

MAUI:

The "Valley Isle" has a magic brewed of many distinctive ingredients—a sunrise at Haleakala, vast, extinct crater; Iao Valley, with its towering Needle, a solid mass of stone rising 1,200 feet above the floor; romantic villages of Lahaina, once island capital and whaling center, Kahului, Makawao and Kula and Hana. Its natives may delight you with the song "Maui No Ka OI" (Maui is the best).

HAWAII:

The "Big Island" is a land of dramatic contrasts to surprise and delight you. The snowy caps of Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea craters, at 13,000, rise from tropical palm-fringed white and black sand beaches. You'll visit private and commercial orchid gardens in Hilo, the second largest island city; and lunch on the rim of Kilauea, most recent active volcano. You'll stay your last 2 nights at the lovely KONA INN and one of your days will be entirely free to visit Coffee Plantations, Parker Ranch, world's largest cattle operation, or go deep sea fishing off Gona Coast, world-famed fishing grounds for marlin, sailfish, tuna and dolphin.

Not a regimented program

... but a selection of planned arrangements to combine, again, the advantages and economy of group travel with the freedom and flexibility of going "on-your-own." Free days are inserted for your relaxation in the tropical sun, sand and surf; shopping; golfing; photography, etc. By special arrangement, you can stay longer on any of these islands or visit, also Kauai, the "Garden Isle" and return on your tour ticket.

Included are all flights from Twin Falls, transfers to and from the airport and sightseeing; On Oahu, the comprehensive Circle Island Tour and the Pearl Harbor Cruise; On Maui, a half day of sightseeing; and on Hawaii Island, a full day of sightseeing.

DON'T WAIT to visit Hawaii. Go now so the memories can enrich your life for all the years ahead. This program is ideal for your first or second visit to the Islands.

CHILDREN are welcome and if they are under 12, a reduction in cost of $160 will apply.

$498

Per person sharing double or triple rooms. Single rooms available at slight additional cost.

Timber Inventory Analyzed For Better Management

SALMON, Dec. 19.—The Salmon national forest contains five billion board feet of timber on 1,129,800 acres of commercial timber lands.

These figures and others, being drawn from the 1962 timber inventory on the Salmon forest, are part of a "timber management plan" being worked out by the U. S. Forest Service.

F. E. Powers, Salmon forest supervisor, said the data has been presented to timber industry officials along with Paul Kemp, Missoula, Mont., who is representing the industry and the community in working with the forest on the management plan.

Analysis of the 1962 timber inventory of the Salmon forest is continuing. The final determination of annual allowable cut and the volume economically operable at the present time will be determined as the management plan is developed, Powers said.

Powers said that the figures on acreage and board-foot of timber represent the total area and volume of commercial timber land and does not indicate that which is economically operable at the present time.

The figures are further classified into areas by volume timber types, both by species and size class. The type classification used are Douglas fir, ponderosa pine, whitebark pine, lodgepole pine, sub-alpine fir, Engelmann spruce, fir, spruce, and ponderosa pine, more than 50,000 acres and 400 million board feet.

The rest of the area and volume consists of whitebark pine, lodgepole pine, Engelmann spruce, and sub-alpine fir. The area and volume within the Idaho primitive area are not included, since this area is reserved from timber harvesting.

"The forest service, according to Powers, is now working on completing the details for the timber management plan for final approval of the chief of the forest service by the end of March."

District rangers and forest personnel on the Salmon national forest have made good progress to date, he said.

King Hill Grange Plans Yule Fete

KING HILL, Dec. 19.—Annual Christmas gift exchange party, sponsored by the King Hill Grange will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Grange hall with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Ruberry in charge of games and entertainment.

Mrs. Joel Young, home economics chairman, and Mrs. Cecil Cook, Junior in charge of Christmas refreshments.

Mrs. Young announces that members who have not been contacted for food are to give 50 cents.

Santa Claus will distribute treats.

Mars Shot Locks Back Onto Star

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 19.—"Mariner-4" has "reacquired" a "fix" on the star Canopus and is headed for Mars for an historic American space payoff next July 14—the first close-up pictures of the red planet.

Scientists from the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) said they tried to make sure that probe will not be "foiled" again by a dust particle. Scientists believe a dust particle in Mariner-4's sophisticated electronic equipment caused it to lose its "fix" on Canopus earlier and "lock" onto another star.

Reacquisition of the "fix" on Canopus means the attitude of Mariner-4 has been corrected.

The spacecraft is scheduled to fly by Mars next July following a seven and one-half month-long, 325-million-mile trip through space. During the 30-minute fly-by, Mariner-4's television camera is expected to take 22 photographs of the Martian surface for relay to Earth.

The pictures are not expected to answer the age-old riddle of whether life exists on the mysterious planet, but they may provide scientists with clues about fascinated man since learned the Martian "canals" which have for the telescope.

Buhl Jaycees To Conduct Light Contest

BUHL, Dec. 19—The Buhl Jaycees again will conduct their annual Christmas lighting and decorating contest with judging slated for Tuesday evening. No entry blanks are required and all residents are urged to participate. In the event, stress Rene James and John Lanni, co-chairmen for the project.

A special feature in this year's event will be a grand prize of $250 to be awarded by the Jaycees for the best overall display, and a first prize for best overall decorations to be presented by the Idaho Power company.

First, second and third place prizes also will be awarded for best displays in the city residential division as well as for the rural division. Residents living in the surrounding area who wish to have their display judged are urged to contact one of the co-chairmen.

Merchandise prizes are being donated by J and K Appliances, Joella's Appliances, Greenawalt's, Western Auto, Ray-Mor drug and the M. W. King company.

As in the past a traveling plaque will be awarded for the best commercial display.

Jerome Man Is Cited in Crash

JEROME, Dec. 19—Terry L. Kiser, Jerome, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after an accident one mile west of Jerome on highway 26 at 12:16 p.m. Wednesday, reports Blaine Patrolman James Gerke.

Kiser, driving a 1963 Mercury, was driving west and made a left hand turn onto the overpass of construction road in front of a 1960 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Leon Hylington, Wenatchee, who was traveling east.

The Mercury was demolished and damage was estimated at $125 to the Chevrolet pickup truck.

Gives you cleaner teeth than ordinary handbrushing, plus healthful gum care

Many dentists are now recommending the G-E Toothbrush. In fact, nearly half the people who bought one say their dentists recommended it.

And little wonder. It delivers many more strokes per minute than you can get brushing by hand—loosens your teeth, feeling really clean, your gums refreshed. And children take to the General Electric like ducks to water.

New induction recharging gives you full-power brushing with cordless convenience and safety. Buy one for you and your family today!

TESTED and found effective for good oral hygiene

"The General Electric Toothbrush has been accepted (Group A) as an effective cleansing device for use as part of a program for good oral hygiene to supplement the regular professional care required for oral health."

PUBLIC ACCESS SITES often require much development before being usable as a thoroughfare to major hunting and fishing waters. This one is Map Rock on the Snake river near Walter's Ferry bridge, where roadway and parking areas are being built. More money by far goes into the development of access properties and management areas than is paid for their acquisition. This year, 17 previously-purchased tracts were developed with new roads, parking areas, fences, cattle guards, boat ramps and sanitary facilities. Twenty-three new ones were bought or leased, bringing the total around the state to 195. (Fish-Game photo)

HELICOPTER MOTORS are more in the delicate side as airplane motors go with the result. Maintenance sometimes takes more time than in some motors of various other types. Three "choppers" will be completely serviced during the winter at the Reader Flying Service, Twin Falls airport. Curtailed of Flying Activity Sets Stage for Winter Maintenance Work

(Continued from Page 17) work is available only in Los Angeles, so in many instances they are loaded onto large trucks and transported to the west coast. When work is completed the trucks return west, pick up the motors, and bring them back to Twin Falls and they are again installed on the airplane. In addition to a fleet of many types of planes—including those for teaching students and carrying passengers cross-country in passenger car comfort—Reader also operates a two-motor DC-3 plane, once the "workhorse" of commercial airlines. large areas of public domain. Most big game hunting occurs in the national forests or other public lands, both federal and state. Even so, the problem is finding enough access thoroughfares to the lands in the public domain. The solution is beyond the means of the Idaho sportsman, lucky as he is to live in one of the best fishing and hunting states in the nation. However, without the dollars from the sale of licenses and tags, and the nearly unanimous vocal support of sportsmen, such department programs never could get off the ground. Most residents recall that the department went to the state legislature two years ago with the simple proposal that program needs exceeded expected income. Several hundred projects already were in the planning stages. They included everything from public access to zoology, and all of these were designed to improve wildlife conditions in Idaho. The people using the resource rallied behind the Fish and Game Program—and the state legislature acted to provide more revenue to get the job done by increasing fishing and hunting license and tag fees in most classes. Twenty-three new public access sites around the state and eight wildlife management areas either bought or leased this year are just one segment of the big job still to be done to provide maximum fishing and hunting opportunities for everyone who wants them.

Rites Honor Mrs. Fern Hitt

BURLEY, Dec. 10 — Funeral services for Mrs. Fern L. Hitt, Burley resident, were conducted Thursday in the Malta LDS ward chapel by Bishop Harvey Wright. Family service was given by Max Lloyd, meditation music was played by Mrs. Ted King. Invocation was given by Roger Nedd. Jerry J. Rose gave the obituary. Maxine Baxter, Claire Boyler and Ruth Steel sang a selection. Soloist was Val Levitt accompanied by Mrs. King. Speakers were Shirley Barlow, Milton Nedd gave the benediction. Pallbearers were Carl Steed, Clarence Corral, Therald Butters, Wesley Adams, Duane Hutchison and Grant Hill. Final arrangements were under the direction of the Malta Relief society, assisted by granddaughters. Final rites were held in the Malta cemetery. Dedication prayer was given by Ted King. Eulogies were under the direction of the Cassia chapter of the American War Mothers.

Gem Club Seats New Officers

WENDELL, Dec. 10 — Officers for 1965 were installed at the Magic Valley Gem club meeting Wednesday evening in the Wendell city hall. Dr. Ellwood T. Ross, Twin Falls, talked on "The Romance of Gems." He described gems used in biblical times and how birthstones were chosen down through the ages for each month of the year. A gift exchange was held and the group sang Christmas carols. Raymond Orr, new editor for the club paper, asked members to have news for the January issue to him by Jan. 18 at box 463, Burley.

Jerome Will Hold Concert

JEROME, Dec. 10 — The combined band and choir of the Jerome high school will present their Christmas concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the high school gymnasium. The fifth grade choir will present several selections including "The Prairie Carol," "On the House Top," and "I Believe." Eighth grade choir selections are "Hallelujah, the Red Noosed Reindeer," "On Come All Ye Faithful," and "Away in a Manger." The varsity choir will present a number of selections including "The Elphig" and "Dug Dug Merrily On High." THESE two early day automobiles would be collector items today. They were utilized as transportation by the Magel family in the early days and only one person shown in the picture is still living. H. Local Businessman, Honored for Long Service, Recalls Early Automobiles

Ever hear of the E.M.F. automobile?

Back about 1900 it was quite a car, according to H. F. (Frank) Magel, pioneer local businessman, and he sold quite a few of them along with another make called the Flanders. Both were built by Studobaker, a concern which at that time was just starting in the auto manufacturing business after a successful venture in the wagon field.

Magel, still active in operation of the Magel Tire company, laughs when he thinks of those old automobiles.

"That E.M.F. car was called the, every morning fixum. Of course, we never called it that when customers were around," Magel said.

The look backward into early day Twin Falls was prompted when the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company presented Magel with a plaque commemorating his 50 years as company dealer and distributor. He is one of less than a dozen men in the nation holding this distinction.

The presentation was made during an even meeting in Salt Lake City at which Magel was guest of honor. At the same time he was presenting a portfolio of congratulatory letters from company officials and old friends in the business.

Starting in the automobile business back when Magel did was a challenge to say the least. It is estimated that there were only 17 automobiles in the county at that time. Following his first dealership with the old Studobaker line, he switched to the Maynard car, then the Cadillac and then the Dodge. Several years ago he sold out the automobile portion of his business but retained the tire division.

When Magel took over the Goodyear dealership in 1913 he became the second man in the history of that concern. The first was

C. of C. Board Favors Sales

Tax, Renewal

Resolutions in favor of reapportionment, urban renewal, pari-mutuel betting and state sales tax have been adopted by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

The board of directors felt that urban renewal would encourage private enterprise to work out a program for utilizing private and public resources to rehabilitate and develop slum and blighted areas. The funds provided, it was agreed, should be under the control of local authorities.

A report on the pari-mutuel betting indicated that 80 persons were employed during each day of the activity in Idaho, for a payroll of $48,000. Receipts from the year totaled $600,000.

It was noted that since many of the horses raced were from out-of-state, this provided business for local hotels, motels and eating establishments from those associated with the racing.

The board figured that a sales tax would provide $54,000,000 for the state. They were in favor of the elimination of inventory tax, reduction of income tax and more equitable free-port law eliminating present requirements of storage by businesses and manufacturers in public and bonded warehouses.

In adopting the resolutions, the Chamber of Commerce board of directors represented the feeling of the entire Chamber of Commerce.

TWIN FALLS PIONEER H. F. (Frank) Magel scans congratulatory letters and a plaque which were given him in recognition for more than 50 years as a distributor of products of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company. His continuous association with the tire company for more than half a century is equaled by less than a dozen other men in the United States. He is still active at 80 years of age in operation of the Magel Tire company. (Times-News photo)

Captain EASY

BUT, A MOMENT LATER, THE CROWD GASPS IN AWE...

The FLINT

MORTY WEEKLE

BY DICK CAVALLI

I JUST GOT THE GREATEST IDEA EVER CONCEIVED BY THE MIND OF MORTAL MAN!

IT'LL MAKE ME RICH BEYOND MY WILDEST DREAMS.

I SHOULD HAVE THOUGHT OF THIS YEARS AGO.

I'M WRITING AN ADVENTURE SERIES FOR TELEVISION.

IT'S ABOUT A BOY WITH A PET ANTEATER THAT GOES EVERYWHERE WITH HIM.

THE ANTEATER SAVES THE LITTLE BOY'S LIFE MANY TIMES.

IT RESCUES HIM FROM BURNING BUILDINGS...

IT PULLS HIM OUT OF SWIRLING RIVERS, AND FINDS HIM WHEN HE GETS LOST.

WELL? WHAT DO YOU THINK OF IT?

CHANGE THAT ANTEATER TO A COLLIE AND I THINK YOU'VE GOT A HIT.

RECKES and his ARMS

GET UP ON THE SLOPE, LARD! I'LL LET YOU KNOW IF YOU DO ANYTHING WRONG!

SURE...

SOME SKI INSTRUCTOR FREAK IS!

HE JUST STAYS DOWN AT THE LOCKER AND WATCHES US THROUGH BINOCULARS!

WHAT IF I DO MAKE A FEW MISTAKES...

HOW HE SUPPOSED TO CRASHED TO EMP?

HEY, LARD!

IT'S FOR YOU!

OKAY, BUT YOU'RE A COWBOY AND I'LL BE THE INDIAN!

OKAY!

AND OUR BIKES WILL BE OUR HORSES.

YEAH!

HEY, WHAT'RE YOU DOING?

TAKING THE SKI OFF YOUR BIKE!
